S i r,

The Accountant - General has issued a circular to all heads of offices in which he states that, owing to a heavy rush of establishment bills, the audit of the contingent bills presented at the beginning of the month is inevitably delayed and while inviting attention to Articles 83 and 87 of the Civil Account Code requests that arrangements may be made to present all contingent and travelling allowance bills on or before the 25th of each month. The pay of the menials of this office, e.g., punkah pullers, scavenger, sweeper and night peon and that of the gardeners of the Old College Park which have to be disbursed at the beginning of each month amount to nearly Rs. 80/- .
