My dear Butterworth,

Fyson the Botany lecturer at the Presidency College has to go immediately on 6 months sick leave. Francis tells me that the Director of Public Instruction reports that he has no one to replace him and wants to know if Rangachari can be spared from the Agricultural College for 6 months to act for Fyson. I do not know whether you have any Asst. lecturer at the Agricultural College or whether the new Economic Botanist could be employed as lecturer for six months. It would be tiresome to delay his economic botanical work for six months. Another possible solution would be to get a 'demonstrator' from the Presidency College who might be qualified to lecture to the students at the Agricultural College.

Will you kindly consider the matter and send me a reply by wire as soon as you can.

Yours sincerely,

L.M.W.

My dear Wynch

I have only just got Chadwick's reply on your D.O.
No. 1645 2/13-1 of 4th inst.
I enclose a copy of it.

Chadwick has omitted to notice one strong objection to the proposed transfer of Ranga Chari to the Presidency College; this is that Ranga Chari has charge of the herbarium which is being catalogued & completed with a view to its being of use to Gambh in the preparation of his Madras Hon.

Chadwick points out that there is no one to take Rangachari's lecturing work at Coimbatore & that a Demonstrator from the Presidency College will not serve our purposes.

Parnell, it seems, is not competent to teach & I am most strongly opposed to his being taken off Economic work.
I think it would be a serious mistake to make the interests of the Agricultural College subservient to those of the Presidency College & sincerely hope that the suggested arrangements will not come to pass.
I gathered from Stone, by the way, that the vacuum will not considerably more than the 200 marks in question.

Yours sincerely,
J.

Copy of D.O. from D.T. Chadwick Esq., No.- dated 16-7-13-

I am sorry I did not notice that Mr. Wynch wanted a reply by wire. There is really no Asstt. Lecturer in Botany at Coimbatore. The next one on the list, Tadulingam, has always been in charge of herbarium work, at present he is also trying to help Rangachari, but I have just got another Assistant which will let Tadulingam get back to ^{his} herbarium. Parnell has never done any teaching at all so far, and what puts him out of court is that he does not yet know his South Indian crops. He arrived in May- the off season, and I had arranged that he should do some camping in August and the end of this month to see some of the crops on the various farms. You will remember, this was one of the objections to recruiting an European purely for teaching purposes. As for substituting a demonstrator from the Presidency College for Rangachari, this I fear will not do as the character of the Botany taught is so different at the two places. At the Presidency College the range is wide and mostly systematic botany is taught ^{at} Coimbatore, ^{it} is much more restricted- greater attention is paid to the physiology of plants, the conditions necessary for ~~the~~ healthy growth, the conditions inimical to growth, pruning, etc. Comparatively few plants are tackled systematically but amongst those, greater attention is paid to the varieties. Barber took some time in getting Rangachari into this way of tackling the subject and Rangachari himself says he would rather a Presidency College ^{than} did not handle his classes for 6 months. If it was a permanent vacancy, Rangachari would like it for personal reasons- Madras, the Presidency College and a seat on the Senate, etc, but we have given Rangachari very good terms and certainly cannot spare him permanently. I think it is ^{so} inadvisable to move him at all and hope it will not be done.

We had a successful but very busy time at Coimbatore.
