Answer

- (a) The number of secondary schools in the Presidency provided with hostels is 82. Information as to whether these hostels are held in rented buildings or in buildings owned by the school is not at present available. (b) In secundary schools, the number of pupils who do not ~~live~~ live with their parents and who reside elsewhere than in hostels or with near relations is roughly 10,548. [An accurate estimate would involve a considerable amount of trouble and would take time.] There are some schools where the number of such pupils is so small that the ^{construction} concession of a hostel would not be justified.

Information as to a portion of the first clause of the question is still incomplete i.e. as to the number of hostels held in rented buildings and that held in buildings owned by the schools. The Director's telephonic message does not state whether the information can be gathered or not and whether it would involve much trouble. The Additional member desires that Govt. should gather the information even should it not be now available. It is therefore for consideration whether further information should be obtained from the D.O. on the point.

2. The answer to the rest of the question may be on the lines of the telephonic message.
