Relations of Managers and Teachers of Secondary Schools.

Notes.

The practice of engaging teachers on written agreements setting forth the conditions of service prevails in schools and colleges under private management to a considerable degree but the extent to which it prevails cannot be stated with precision. It is already encouraged in various ways. The Inspectors suggest the execution of such agreements and provision is made in the admission form of students into the Teachers' College for a statement on the part of the Manager undertaking to entertain the teacher on return from training on certain conditions and on the part of the teacher to abide by these conditions. Also in the "Hints and Suggestions to Managers and Teachers of Secondary schools" published by the Department the following passage occurs:-

"It is suggested that Managers on engaging "qualified teachers should insist on an agreement "to serve for a period of not less than a year "and that teachers should insist for their own "security on similar agreements."
