Station Madras, Dated the 11 November 1913.

From (Name) The Hon'ble Sir Alfred Gibbs Bourne, D.Sc., F.R.S., K.C.I.E., (Designation) DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC INSTRUCTION,

To the Secretary to the Government of Madras, Educational Department.

S i r,

In my proposals for reorganizing the Training Schools for Masters (R.C. No. 5128-A of 1907, dated 25th November 1910) the substitution of secondary training classes attached to Colleges and High Schools for secondary training schools was advocated for the reason that this would facilitate carrying further the general education of the teachers as well as giving them technical training. It has not so far been possible, in all cases, to attach these classes to Colleges or Secondary Schools (G.O. No. 512, dated 4th June 1913) nor will it be possible to do so while the measures foreshadowed in G.O. No. 2339-2, dated 20th June 1913 are incomplete.

I therefore propose to postpone for at any rate one year the introduction of a two years' course for secondary students since the second year of training in the absence of facilities for further efficient general instruction will be of little use. It is hoped that by July next these classes will be completely organised and that the secondary students admitted then will begin a two years' course.

I have the honour to be,

S i r,

Your most obedient servant,

R. A. Grieve.

for Director of Public Instruction.

SUBJECT.

Postponement for a year of the introduction of the two years' course of training ~~the~~ prescribed for secondary grade teachers.

Under rule III of the Madras Educational Rules of the period of training in secondary training schools consists of two terms, that is, one year. But according to the reorganization scheme approved in G.O. No. 424 Educational, dated 1st July 1911, it should extend over a period of two years. The object of this extension of the course was to enable students undergoing training to improve their general education for which there would be ample facilities in the model high schools to which these training schools were proposed to be attached. The model school scheme has ^{however} not been sanctioned yet, while the scheme for the reorganization of secondary training schools school has been given effect to partially in G.O. No. 512, E.O., dated 4th June 1913, that is, so far as it could be done independent of the former scheme. In the absence of the model high schools the secondary grade students are not provided with facilities for general education. The D.P.S., therefore, considers that there is no use in introducing the two years' course now & hence the proposal to postpone it till the modified scheme for the establishment of model high schools for which proposals have been called for in memo No. 2339-2 dated 20th June 1913 is sanctioned. ^{The Director's} ~~This~~ proposal may, it is submitted, be accepted. A draft order is placed below for approval.
