Extract from the Indian Patriot of 8th Sept 1913

CAST-OUT STUDENTS.

It is a standing grievance in Madras that hundreds of boys are kept out of colleges because there is no room for them. Boys reading in high schools, unless they are exceptionally brilliant and early in the field have very little chance of gaining admission into a college. From the information elicited from the Government of Behar by an honourable member a similar state of things prevails in that province also, so far as the information is vouchsafed. As many as 349 boys were refused admission into all the colleges, with the exception of the B. B. College. The Ravenshaw College and St. Columba's College refused admission to one hundred students each (the figure as to the latter college is only approximate.) But neither is the Patna college, which refused admission to 179 boys, nor in the Ravenshaw College which refused admission to 100 boys, was admission refused to natives of the province. The T. N. J. College refused admission to twenty boys owing to lack of hostel and classroom accommodation. The Behar National College refused admission to 50 boys (the figure is only approximate.) The high schools in the several divisions refused admission to 1,289 boys. It is not stated whether those were refused admission were natives of the province or not. 279 non-B. harce boys, as shown above, sought and were refused admission into the Patna College and the Ravenshaw College. This shows that in every province there is the same difficulty. The 279 boys, it is presumed, should have come from the neighbouring Province after being refused admission into the colleges there; and it is an interesting phenomenon, this migration of helpless students from province to province.

132(a) - The addl. member may be informed that the Govt have now perused the article in question

(b) It is presumed that this question relates only to admission in Arts College. It is not clear how by the Govt calling for information from Principals about the ⁺rules for admission of students in their Colleges, the admission of students in such Colleges will be facilitated. The admission of students in Colleges as in ~~high schools~~ secondary schools will depend upon (1) the accommodation available and (2) the qualifications possessed by the candidates for admission. It is for consideration whether the addl. member may be informed that the Govt see no advantage in calling for ^(the required) information from Principals. A draft answer is submitted for approval.
