impressed with his work and when temporarily in charge of the recommended district, his exemption to Government. But the Government in their Order No. 502 Misc., dated 7th June 1912 declined to sanction it. Kurnool Chenna Kesavulu Nayudu is working in the Account branch of this office from the beginning of his service. He has a good knowledge of account work and deserves encouragement. They are entrusted with important branches of work in the offices in which they are serving. I therefore recommend their exemption from examination rules to enable them to hold clerical appointments up to Rs. 30.

3. This recommendation is not merely for the benefit of these candidates. It is actually necessitated by the revision of Taluk Establishments. The number of places available for unpassed men is now smaller than it was before the revision. All the posts in the lowest or Rs. 20 grade are now held by unpassed men with the exception of one, the incumbent of which, though a Matriculate, does not deserve promotion till he shows improvement in his work. There still remain three clerks for whom there are no places in the Rs. 20 grade. They are holding Rs. 25 appointments but drawing only Rs. 20 under a local arrangement. It would be inequitable to allow this temporary arrangement to go on till three permanent vacancies arise in the Rs. 20 grade, when there are clerks in that grade who are holding Rs. 25 places under temporary exemptions from examination rules and who are quite fit to hold those places and higher places on the clerical staff.

I have the honour to be,

Your most obedient servant,
