2. The school marched out on the morning of the 27th December and arrived at the camp at 3 P.M. The march of 19 miles was done in 2 stages, a halt being made at the 9th mile stone at Tirukkalukkundram for breakfast. Considering that the boys had to carry their own kit (a suit, a blanket and a tin dish) the route marching was done very creditably.

6. The camp broke up on the morning of the 4th January and during the whole time, the conduct of the boys was not exemplary, and all that could be desired. The teaching staff were all present and every one helped to make the camp a great success.

7. The boys received an intelligent account of Buddhistic and pure Dravidian Architecture and sculpture. The light house Superintendent was good enough to allow every boy to see the working of the light. More than half the pupils had never seen the sea before and the sight of it was a lesson in itself.

8. The whole school has been asked to write as an exercise in composition their impressions of the trip and how they enjoyed themselves and extracts from them will be printed in a monograph.

9. The Christmas holidays were most profitably spent this year and what was found in previous years to be a problem to keep the pupils occupied for two weeks together proved to be a simple task this year. The boys have returned improved in every respect and the experiment has proved a great success.
