[Subjects the applicant is prepared to teach and any special qualifications or experience (e.g., in music and singing, commercial subjects, languages, literary work, organization or inspection) not mentioned under heads 13-17 above should be given here.]

Mr. Melville Channing-Pearce was a junior master in my school (Skelsmergh House, Margate) from 1905 to 1907. I have a very favourable recollection of him, and quite believe that his fine character and developed abilities fit him for a responsible and honourable post now.

Mr. Melville Channing-Pearce was my Assistant Master in my school here from September 1911 to December 1913. He taught Latin, French, Arithmetic and English with great success.

I found him a most conscientious teacher, very thorough in his methods, and a loyal colleague. Mr. Channing-Pearce is very well read and I can speak most highly of his moral character. He is a gentleman in every way.

I consider him an excellent candidate for an Inspectorship, for I feel sure he would be hard-working and most trustworthy.

GENTLEMEN,

I hear from Mr. Channing-Pearce that he is a candidate for a post as Inspector of Schools under His Majesty's Government. It is with great pleasure that I bear testimony to his qualifications for the post.

My Channing-Pearce came to Abingdon School as chief history master in January last. He came bringing excellent testimonials and shewed at once by his handling of his subject that he was a very capable teacher. He is interested in the theory of teaching and would be well qualified to do the work of inspecting schools. His own knowledge of the practical difficulties of individual circumstances and his own ability in surmounting these would enable him readily to appreciate where a theoretical system failed, or a practical exposition shewed ignorance of underlying principles. He is a very willing and painstaking master.

Since he has been here he has undertaken the coaching of a junior four on the river, with a marked success due to his combined energy and tact.

He has willingly stepped in to act as editor of the School Magazine.

If the Board considers it desirable that a man appointed to supervise the teaching of others should himself have won his spurs in teaching, I have the utmost confidence in recommending Mr. Channing-Pearce to their notice.

I am, Gentlemen,

Yours faithfully,

Head Master of Abingdon School.

Mr. Channing-Pearce shewed considerable literary ability while he was at College, and might easily have secured himself a much higher place in the Honours List than that he took. He has since taking his Degree acquired much valuable scholastic experience, and, as I should have expected, has shown great interest in Educational problems and a very considerable power of dealing with them.
