University Regulations.

Sanctioning certain alterations in the transitory regulation relating to the "Examinations for the Degree of Bachelor of Laws."

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper :—

Letter—from F. DEWSBURY, Esq., B.A., LL.B., Registrar, University of Madras.
To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.
Dated—the 16th November 1915.
No.—7241.

I am directed by the Syndicate to request the sanction of the Government under section 25 (1) of the Indian Universities Act, 1904, to the enclosed alterations in the transitory regulation relating to the Bachelor of Laws Degree Examinations, which were adopted by the Senate at its adjourned meeting held on the 23rd October 1915.

2. The transitory regulation referred to was adopted by the Senate in March last, consequent upon the acceptance of the recommendations of the Faculty of Law for the revision of the courses for the Degree of Bachelor of Laws, and was sanctioned by the Government in G.O. No. 727, Educational, dated 3rd July 1915.

3. It was the intention of the Faculty of Law that the revised law courses should come into operation at once, and that the transitory regulation should operate only for the benefit of law students who had entered upon the old courses in the year 1914 or earlier. The wording of the transitory regulation does not, however, clearly reflect this intention and the question was raised as to whether law students might not in this and subsequent years enter upon the old courses in law, provided that the Law Colleges would offer instruction therein and grant the certificates required under the old regulations.

4. To remove any misconception and to carry into effect the original intention of the Faculty of Law, the amendments for which sanction is now requested were recommended to the Senate by the Syndicate and were adopted.

ENCLOSURE.

Resolutions adopted by the Senate at the meetings held on 22nd and 23rd October 1915.

That in the following transitory regulations passed by the Senate, at its meeting held on 6th March 1915, and sanctioned by the Government :—

- (i) "The first examinations under the revised regulations for the B.L. Degree will be held in the following years :—

|---------------------------|----|----|----|----|------|
| First Examination in Law  | .. | .. | .. | .. | 1916 |
| Second Examination in Law | .. | .. | .. | .. | 1917 |
| B.L. Degree Examination   | .. | .. | .. | .. | 1918 |

- (ii) The First Examination in Law and the B.L. Degree Examination under the regulations in force in the year 1914 will continue to be held according to those regulations, in the case of the First Examination in Law until the year 1917, and in the case of the B.L. Degree Examination until the year 1918, after which years no examinations under those regulations will be held. Candidates for the B.L. Degree who have qualified for certificates of having completed the courses for that degree prescribed by the regulations in force in the year 1914 may qualify for the degree at any time by appearing for and passing each of the examinations held under the revised regulations, without the necessity of producing additional certificates of attendance at an affiliated college, in which case candidates who have passed the First Examination in Law held under the regulations in force in the year 1914 will not be required to pass the corresponding examination under the revised regulations"—

the following alterations be made :—

- At the beginning of paragraph 2 be inserted the words "For the benefit of candidates for the B.L. Degree who entered upon the courses of study in Law in 1914 or earlier" and at the beginning of the second sentence be inserted the word "Such."

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O. No. 1426, EDUCATIONAL,
DATED THE 15TH DECEMBER 1915.

[SUBJECT.—Alterations in the transitory regulations relating to the B.L. Degree Examination.]

From the Registrar, University of Madras, dated 16th November 1915, No. 7241.

The Director of Public Instruction may be requested to state whether the alterations proposed may be accepted.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

The necessity for the proposed alteration is explained in the Registrar's covering letter. The sanctioning of the alterations may appear to entail some hardship on the students of the first-year class. But the original intention of the Faculty of Law appears to have been that the revised Law courses should come into operation at once, although the wording of the transitory regulation does not clearly reflect the intention.

From the proceedings of the Senate reported in the Madras Times of the 25th October, it will be seen that the Principal of the Law College distinctly made the students understand that the classes of 1915 were open under the new regulations and that in a few cases where the students represented to him that they joined the College under a misapprehension, their fees had been refunded. In these circumstances, it does not seem that there is any real grievance to the students of the first-year Law class.

2. Two memorials—one from M.R.Ry. Ramayyengar, pleader, Tinnevely, and the other from the students of the first-year Law class, Trivandrum, have been received protesting against the alterations proposed by the Senate and requesting that they may be vetoed or at least that the year "1914" in the proposed amendments may be changed into "1915" so that the present set of F.L. students may not be affected by the alterations. In the circumstances stated in paragraph 1 supra, there seems no sufficient reason for complying with either of the requests of the petitioners. A draft order sanctioning the alterations proposed by the Senate is submitted for approval.

2 NOTES TO G.O. No. 1426, EDUCATIONAL, 15TH DECEMBER 1915.

Please show, if you can, the newspaper report of the discussion of the original transitory regulation. Was it made quite clear then what the intention was?

C. G. TODHUNTER—5-12-15.

The newspaper report referred to is put up and flagged. The original transitory regulations were carried through the Senate without any discussion as they were only consequential.

E.A.V.—8-12-15.

It will therefore appear that the original intention of the Faculty of Law was not then made quite clear. In this connection attention is solicited to Diwan Bahadur P. Rajagopala Achariyar's note, dated 30th June 1915, on page 4 of the notes to G.O. No. 727, Educational, dated the 3rd July 1915, from which it will appear that the sanction of Government to the revised regulations was issued immediately partly with a view to enable the Law College and the students to adjust themselves to the change as the first examination under the altered regulations is to come off in April 1916. There seems therefore no doubt that the intention of the Faculty of Law was that the revised courses should come into operation at once.

T.K.—8-12-15.

There is no doubt what the original intention was and it is proper that students who tried to evade by means of a quibble should suffer the consequences.

IV. I am also given to understand that, on reference, by the Principal. Trevandrum College, the Registrar first replied him that his interpretation of the transitory regulations as per his letter to me aforesaid was approved of by the Syndicate and then wrote to him saying that his previous letter was cancelled and that the whole matter is under reconsideration

V I then approached the Senate with a memorial dated 25.9.15 calling their attention to the facts stated above and suggesting to them that ends of justice require them to finally communicate to Law College Principals that they could prepare this year F. & L students either under the old or new regulations, as it would be quite in conformity with the interpretation of the transitory regulations as approved of by them.

VI With reference to the said Correspondence the Registrar replied me saying that the Syndicate has resolved to recommend to the Senate that the transitory regulations be amended so as to confine its operation to students

Commencing Law Course in 1914 or earlier (Vide Registrar's letter No 6354. Senate House 11th October 1915 addressed to Principals of Law Colleges. Madras & Trevandrum)

VII

I dare submit that parents of many of the students (of whom my humble self is one) only in view of the discretion given by the transitory regulations and of the difficulties financial & otherwise of the 3 years B. & L course which is only compulsory from 1918 have allowed their sons to Commence Law Course this year.

B

As the subjects of the F. & L examination under the new regulations cover all the subjects for that examination under the old regulations, I humbly beg to submit that it is no matter that principals of Colleges have commenced the present academic year with an F. & L class under the new regulations, as the new F. & L students will be entitled to appear for the said examination under either regulations until the year 1917.

IX

I earnestly beg to submit to the benign consideration of Government that the proposed amendment limiting the operation of the transitory regulations in favor of old students only is not merely unjust & uncalled for but it is pernicious in that it deprives

7 #

the new F. & L. students of the legal benefit.
(discretion) which has accrued to them ever since 3rd July 1915 & relying on which the students have commenced law course
some of whom even resigning their appointments as paid public servants.

X. Having once granted the discretion by the
by the regulations which the Senate adopted so long ago as March last & seeing that it induced many students to commence law course the Senate will never be justified in introducing any such amendment as aforesaid to the utter disappointment of those students

XI I hear that the question of the said amendment is one of the subjects coming on for disposal at the Senate meeting of 22nd October

XII It stands to reason, law & equity that the present operation of the transitory regulations as now worded be made to continue without any alteration, for the proposed amendment will be felt by this year F. & L. students as a great disaster

No. The Principal
Law College distinctly
made the students understand that the class of 1915 was open under the new regulations & that
the students were
to have that they were under a misapprehension, their fees
were refunded -

In the above Cir-
cumsstances I humbly pray the Govt.
graciously please amendment to the regulations be re-
worded & to forward
with a remark de-
view of amendment

Sir,

I most humbly beg to submit to 16-10-15 R supplement to my memorial dated / the syndicate's proposal to add and the Transitory Regulations relating mination.

2. By the Transitory Regulations
a student who has begun his course July 1915, is entitled to appear under the old regulations until letter to me No. 5057

10 10
the motion of Mr. Arthur Davies, Principal of Law College, Madras and at the Senate meeting of 23rd October the Transitory Regulations seem to have been altered by prefixing the words "For the benefit of the candidates for the B.L. degree who entered upon the courses of study in law in 1914 or earlier."

4. This is not a verbal alteration as Mr. Arthur Davies says but a very substantial one, in that it gives the benefit of the Transitory Regulations only to old students and deprives the new students of the option of appearing for F.L. examinations under the old regulations until 1917.

5. Under Regulations of the University of Madras No.45 no amendment shall be proposed which substantially raises a question already disposed of or is consistent with or adverse to any resolution already passed by the Senate meeting.

6. I humbly submit that the question whether the new F.L. students could appear for F.L. examination under the old regulations until 1917 has already been decided by the <sup>the Transitory</sup> ~~University~~ Regulations as now worded, and a resolution to that effect was already made by the Senate and hence the present amendment cannot be proposed as it substantially affects the question and is inconsistent with the previous resolution; and the power of amendment rests with the Government under clause (b) sub section 1 of section 26, The Indian Universities Act 1904.

This Section does not apply in the present case

7. In every point of view it is not fair on the part of Mr. Arthur Davies to say, at this stage, that the intention of the Senate was such; for the Senate could be meant only by what they speak and the new F.L. students naturally expecting some temporary relief from the new extension of B.L. course from 2 to 3 years could not have meant the Senate otherwise.

8. As a matter of fact, the parents of many of the students (of whom my humble self is one) have put their boys in the law colleges this year solely relying on the discretion of 2 years B.L. course given by the Transitory Regulations as they now run.

9. There is no harm in not making the amendment - which, if sanctioned, will be very harmful to those who have commenced their law course in 1915.

10. The present mode of training up F.L. students in colleges is no hinderance as the subjects under the new curriculum cover all the subjects under the old -- regulations.

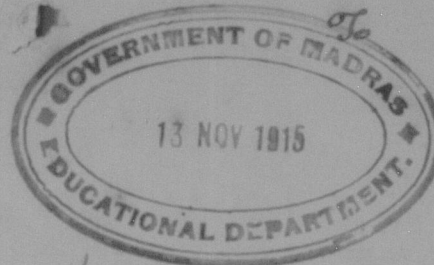

In conclusion and in the interest of the public I most humbly and solemnly beseech the Government will be graciously pleased not to sanction the said amendment or if the Government thinks fit to sanction, the Government will be pleased not to give retrospective effect to the amendment and thus allow this year F.L. students at least, to appear for F.L. under the old regulations until 1917.

The Secretary to the Government,
Educational Department,
Madras.

Sir,

We, the students of the First year law class,
Trevandrum humbly beg to submit this memoranda
for the kind consideration of the Government.

Submitted that this may be sent along with the previous memorials on the subject pending receipt of the Revised Regulation from the University -
Vide Secy's order
below.

The Senate of the Madras University in its meeting on Oct. 23rd passed an amendment to the Transitory Regulation of the Law Examination confining its operation to students who commenced their Law studies in 1914 or earlier.

According to the original Resolution of the Senate, passed in its meeting on March 6th
and approved of by the Government of Madras in their G. O. (Educational) dated 3rd July, 1915, we could either take a two years' course under the Transitory Regulation or three years
course, under the Revised body of Regulations.
The amendment now passed by the Senate, has deprived us of this concession which accrued to us from 3rd July, 1915. The action of the Senate bears very hard on us.

We further beg to submit that the radical change in the Law Course, passed by the Senate in March last, was effected all on a sudden and this introduction of material change without any previous notice or warning of the coming would act prejudicially against those of us who prolonged their Arts' course either by studying for Honours or for M.A. For such of us, the concession of appearing under the Transitory Regulation afforded great relief.
It is, we submit, extremely disheartening to know that we have benefited

Notes
19.11.15

The Senate, we respectfully submit, has not in this instance followed the equitable maxim that a change in the existing Regulation should not prejudice existing rights.

We, therefore, humbly pray that the Government would be graciously pleased in justice to those who relied on the Transitional Regulation, to veto the Senate's Amendment or at least to change '1914' in the Amendment to '1915' so that the present set of F. & S. students are not affected by the Amendment.
