We have the honour to send you by Registered Post a copy of "Deccan Nursery Tales" for the favour of the kind consideration of your Government. We are forwarding a copy of the book to the Education Department of your province and they will no doubt deal with it in the ordinary course. We would, however, humbly request the patronage also of the other departments of your Government. And in this connection we would especially draw your attention to the illustrations which have been painted by Mr. Dhurandhar a high caste Indian gentleman. They disclose to English eyes the interiors of Brahman households during various sacred ceremonies or in the intimacy of ordinary life. Such scenes, no Englishman has yet in real life been permitted to gaze upon.

We are, therefore, humbly of opinion that the book will be a valuable addition to the library of every important office in the administration of your Department.

We have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servants,

From the Manager, Messrs. Macmillan & Co, dated 5-1-15

For the U.S.

The book is not likely to be of much use in any of the Public office, under Govt. The Publishers have addressed the Educational deptt. direct and that dept need not therefore be Consulted.

I believe the book is good of its kind & it is well reviewed. There is no one known in adding it to the library of any Govt office except perhaps the Ed Dept which has been addressed by the Publishers.

No communication regarding the publication has been received in this department. The publishers would presumably have addressed the D.P.I. direct. Submitted that the D.P.I. may be requested u.o. to state whether any, and if so how many copies of the book might with advantage, be purchased for use in Educational institutions.

I confess I see no particular reason why book should patronise this book.

It seems a very wise one & would command a sufficient sale on its merits.

If I may have the cry for the J.B. Committee it will probably be added to the list of school reading books and that it seems to me is enough.
