Mr. SERIES.

G.O. No. 452

DATED 30 - 4 - 1915

[Despatch Abstract.]

Books & publications

Sanctioning the purchase of 55 copies of the book entitled "Beacon lights" by S. N. Das & requesting the author to forward them to the Director of Public Instruction with a bill of charges.

The Secretary, Education Department,

Government of Madras

Dated Magura the 2nd February 1915.

In enclosing a copy of my new book Beacon Lights with an expression of opinion by Their Excellencies, Their Honours and Other high officials, I have the honour to solicit patronage of Government so as to ~~be~~ cover the cost of publication. The Government of East Bengal subscribed as many copies of "Footprints" as there were Government High English Schools and the Government of Madras and West Bengal 50 copies each and so forth. This brought me a good portion of the money I spread over "Footprints" and I now pray that all High English Schools be provided with a copy of "Beacon Lights".

I have the honour to be,
Sir,
Your most obedient servant,
S. N. Das
Sub-Divisional Officer,
Magurah.

Please now accept my warm thanks for this interest in it, and much that should make it an ideal book for boys, with kindly thoughts and shrewd teaching in its stories. With kind regards to the book and its author all success in 1915 and succeeding years, I remain, very truly yours (Sd) J. S. Weston.

You must excuse my delay in answering with a word of sincere thanks for your kind gift of "Beacon Lights" but having been on tour till within the last few days my correspondence has got into arrears. Please accept my best thanks for sending it me and let me assure you that I think its contents should prove of real value, by the fact that it contains so much useful and helpful advice for life. With all good wishes for 1915. Yours sincerely (Sd) Willingdome

Dear Sir, "I am to say that His Honour had found pleasure and profit in reading it. It is an admirable little volume not only for school boys but for all who are interested in India and its development under British Rule. The anecdotes are full of interest and you deserve very great credit for having brought together such an excellent collection. The appeal to the Indian peoples in the Final Article - No 82 is eloquent and particularly appropriate. His Honour is much obliged to you for affording him the pleasure of reading the book and he is sure it will have a wide circulation and a large sphere of usefulness." Yours faithfully (Sd) E. N. Bayley.

My dear Sir "I have read "Beacon Lights" with great pleasure. The stories which you have collected are interesting in themselves and the manner in which you have inculcated the lessons which they contain is calculated to encourage the young to follow noble examples and to foster the good feeling and kindness between all classes of the community the prevalence of which is so much to be desired."

Yours very truly, (Sd) Chas. S. Bayley
