Statement of the Objects, and an Appeal on behalf, of the Civil Orphan Asylums

THE MADRAS CIVIL ORPHAN ASYLUMS were founded one hundred and seven years ago for the gratuitous education, board and lodging of the orphans of Europeans and their descendants, who are not eligible for admission into the Military Asylums in the Presidency. They have thus stood the test of time, and continue to retain public confidence.

It is no easy task to feed, clothe and educate nearly two hundred orphans. It is a still more difficult matter to successfully launch out into life these children, educated up to the Middle School Standard, to make their way through the ever-increasing crowd of better educated competitors.

The necessity, character and scope of the work done in these institutions are well known to the general public in Madras, and the help received is practically confined to the residents in this city. But all orphans throughout the Presidency are eligible for admission. This fact, it may be assumed, is generally known throughout the mofussil, from the applications which are made from various stations for the admission of orphans; but the Directors regret that the claim resulting from this fact, upon persons residing in the mofussil, for some contribution towards the support of these institutions, does not appear to be so generally recognized.

These institutions are managed by a particularly strong Directorate, elected by the subscribers.

The Bishop of the Diocese is the President, the Archdeacon and the Garrison Chaplain are the Vice-Presidents, the institutions are under the control of a resident Principal who is a Clergyman of the Church of England, and the rest of the Clergy of the Church of England are ex-officio patrons. Though the religious instruction imparted here is in accordance with the tenets of the Church of England, destitute orphans of all denominations are admitted.

The Directors, therefore, earnestly request the Clergy in the Presidency and mofussil, either to make regular periodical collections in their Churches on behalf of the Asylums, or else to circulate this appeal, together with the accompanying report, among the European and Eurasian residents at their stations, who are particularly invited to come forward and contribute, according to their means, towards the support of institutions which provide such efficient relief for the destitute and distressed members of their own community.

REPORT

ON THE

Madras Civil Orphan Asylums

AND

ST. MARY'S CHURCH CHARITY SCHOOL

(THE Directorate has the pleasure of presenting to the subscribers and friends of these institutions a brief report on their working during the year 1914.

The boys and girls continue to be taught together. For educational purposes they form one school, but, as the management of each school is independent of the other, the report deals with each branch separately.

DIRECTORATE

During the year Messrs. R. Greenall, L. E. Kirwan and J. Short resigned offices as Directors, as they were leaving for a visit home. Mr. James Short's visit was in order to undergo an operation, which was alas! of no avail and he died soon after. His loss to Madras in general and to these Asylums in particular was a very heavy one and his name will long be remembered amongst us as that of a kind friend who spared neither time, nor pains, nor money in our service.

We heartily congratulate Mr. W. D. St. Leger on gaining the high honour of the 'Kaiser-i-Hind' Gold medal. His valued work for these Asylums for almost a generation would alone entitle him to this high distinction.

Mr. S. D. Pears very generously gave his valuable services as Architect for our new buildings gratuitously. Mr. E. V. Beeby, another of our Directors, was appointed by the Committee Clerk of Works, and superintended the erection of the buildings gratuitously.

FINANCE

The year opened with a balance of Rs. 7,071-1-7, exclusive of Rs. 1,25,000, the amount of the mortgage loan referred to in the last report. The receipts during the year amounted to Rs. 50,858-9-10, and the expenditure to Rs. 51,532-5-1, leaving a balance at the close of the year of Rs. 6,397-6-4. The opening and closing balances include boarding charges paid in lump sums for certain children, and it has now been decided to set apart these amounts as a separate account in the Savings Bank to be drawn upon at the rate of Rs. 15 per month for each child.

The following statements show the receipts and expenditure for the past three years :—

The accounts for the year also include a sum of Rs. 27,000, part of the government grant for new buildings. This amount was drawn and paid to the contractor as the work progressed.

The Principal's Report for 1914

Read at the Distribution of Prizes, March 5, 1915,

His Excellency the Governor presiding

YOUR EXCELLENCIES, LADIES AND GENTLEMEN,

In the name of the Directors, the staff and the pupils of these Asylums, I beg to thank Your Excellencies for coming here to-day to preside and to distribute the prizes. This practical proof of sympathy with our efforts here is very welcome to us, and will encourage us all to renewed exertions in the arduous but sacred work in which we are engaged amongst the destitute orphans of this Presidency.

In presenting this first Principal's report of the Civil Orphan Asylums, I feel it incumbent on me to publicly express the debt of gratitude these institutions owe to the ladies and gentlemen who have hitherto with rare devotion given so much thought and time and effort to the supervision of them. I would especially mention Mr. W. D. St. Leger, who did such splendid service as Honorary Secretary for many years and endeared himself to a whole generation of boys, and Miss Williams who organized the business of the Ladies' Committee so successfully. That these institutions still have the benefit of their advice and sympathy as members of the Directorate is a matter of sincere congratulation.

I would cordially thank them all for their kind co-operation with me in my difficult task as Principal under the old rules which acknowledged no Principal; an anomaly which I am thankful to say is to be done away with when the next general meeting sanctions a new set of rules which recognize the altered conditions and give freedom of action to the one who is responsible.

There is another debt of gratitude we must discharge, and it is a very large one. Two years ago the Education Department recommended a large extra grant to enable a Principal to be appointed and further improvements made on the staff. A large building grant of Rs. 46,910 was also passed to provide new school buildings. These generous projects have come into full fruition and you are now listening to the Principal's report in this lofty central hall. We do indeed tender our sincere thanks to the Education Department for their generous dealings with these institutions, and hope that future results will prove us worthy of such generosity.

In looking back over the events of 1914 in the latter half of which my Principalship commenced, I experience mingled feelings of satisfaction and disappointment. Much has been attempted, some improvements made, but many things remain to be done, and all the impatient energy in the world will not hasten the process of steady evolution. Educationally we have progressed. At our inspection in December we were informed of certain signs of improvement all round, and nowhere more so than in the Kindergarten Department, where the subdivision of the class and the engagement of an extra teacher had made a wonderful difference. For the first time, too, for some years, the pupils of the Civil Orphan Asylum appear in the pass lists of the Middle School Examination. We sent up two candidates who both passed, Laurence Wray in the second class, and Donald Westwood in the third. These two boys continued their successful careers by winning Entrance Scholarships at Bishop Corrie High School, and we look forward with hope to their futures.

In our games and other means of physical development we have also shown considerable progress towards the ideal 'sound mind in a sound body'. Our Cadet Corps numbers thirty-three and their attendance and efficiency on parades have been favourably commented on. We have four patrols of Boy Scouts, all of whom have attained quite a high degree of efficiency under the careful tuition of Mr. Alan Guthrie, whose devotion to their training is beyond praise. He reaped his reward however, when our Bull patrol won the Champion Flag of the Madras Association for all-round good work in open competition. As regards games we seem to prefer hockey and football; cricket is only gradually being re-introduced. We are proud to report that our Hockey Team won the Champion Cup for School Cadet Corps in Madras.

Our girls also have done their share in these matters. Our two representatives in the Lady Atkinson Cup Tennis Competition though beaten were not disgraced, and Miss Sampson tells me they made a very good show. We have formed a company of Girl Guides who are very much in earnest, and proved it by all twenty-eight of them passing their first examination for badges, twelve of them with honours.

All the spare time, however, is not devoted to play, and we have started a carpentry class amongst the boys with a view to improving their general handiness and usefulness and to guiding their energies into a constructive rather than a destructive direction, for boy is naturally a destructive creature. It is under the charge of a certified manual instructor, and has settled down into a steady, ordered progress, so that we have hopes of a small grant to provide more benches and tools. The school band also practises regularly and, now that we have a resident band instructor, we hope great things of it. Our church choir has developed, and now there are thirty-four members who can take their part in the choral services in four-part harmony.

Both our teachers and our girls have taken advantage of the classes opened by the Educational Department to teach physical drill, domestic economy and cookery. Six of our teachers gained teachers' certificates in physical drill, three in domestic economy and three in cookery. Since October the new series of classes in these subjects has been in operation, and I had a letter from the Government lecturer in domestic economy and cookery last week in which she declares herself delighted with the interest taken in their work by the teachers and girls of this school.

As regards general health the year opened badly, a large number of children being brought to hospital with skin diseases, measles, and fevers; most of these ailments being, in the opinion of the medical officer, introduced by visitors from outside. However, things improved; a trip to Ennore for the children staying at school during summer vacation was very much appreciated, and the attendance at hospital fell off more and more till on the approach of the Christmas holidays, there were no in-patients for several days in succession. Two great improvements were appreciated by the medical officer; the new dietary scale, and the putting the boys into good khaki shirts which protect their chests and reduce the number of those suffering from coughs and colds.

But despite these improvements much remains to be done. There are old wells and a large pond which ought to be covered and filled in, and the unused part of the compound to be cleared. Alas, this means a large expenditure, and our funds are not warranted to stand it unaided. Thanks to Government's munificence in giving us these fine new schoolrooms, our dormitories need no longer be used by day as well as by night, and we shall at last have the much desired opportunity of thoroughly cleansing them, and of fitting them up with necessary conveniences such as shelves, etc. All this of course makes for a further improvement in health, and also gives us more room to take in more children.

The spiritual side of the children's education is also well looked after. Every Sunday we have parade services at 7.45 a.m. and 4.45 p.m. The holy communion is celebrated the first Sunday of every month, and also on every Saint's Day and festival. After every Sunday morning service the elder children attend a Bible class taken by Miss Williams, and I have a Sunday school for the younger ones, with the assistance of Miss Martin, Miss Smith-Simon and two of the senior girls. We have now a confirmation class of forty-six candidates preparing for the Lord Bishop's visit to us on March 29th. In the recent Diocesan Prayer Book Examinations nine passed in the intermediate division, three of them with merit, and three passed in the elementary.

As regards changes in the staff, Miss Fuller resigned the post of head mistress in June. Miss King came to take charge of the kindergarten, and was later on joined by Miss Smith-Simon in the same department. Mr. F. C. Baker was called away to the front, and in his place at present we have Mr. P. L. O'Doherty of Bishop Cotton's School. Sergeant Tullett died suddenly in September, and Sergeant Brumpton filled his place. Next month Sergeant Younger will also join as second sergeant and bandmaster. We are all sorry to lose our head master, Mr. Buckenham, who is taking a post at Mussoorie up in the hills for the sake of the health of his children. He came at a difficult crisis five years ago, and has done much to pull up the educational standard here. He will take with him the best wishes of us all.

The register of the Male Asylum shows ninety-two boys on the rolls in January and one hundred and twelve in December; and of the Female Asylum seventy-five in January and eighty-three in December.

The Treasurer's report shows a revenue of Rs. 50,585 as against an expenditure of Rs. 51,532.

In concluding this report I would make an earnest appeal for more help in our efforts here. Government have been very generous and have incidentally shown that they consider we are an institution worth fostering. But further improvements are necessary in staff and equipment. We have these beautiful new schoolrooms, but next we want some decent school furniture to put into them. We want more money to spend on the staff and on the rest of the buildings and the compound. Government says 'We help those who help themselves', and till our subscription lists show signs of considerable improvement, we cannot expect more Government aid. Amongst the large company here assembled, representative of all that is best in Madras, we venture to appeal for some more names on our subscription lists. I think we may fairly claim to have accomplished enough to prove we are worthy of help. And there is another way you can help us. There are now forty destitute orphans registered on our books waiting for admission; but we are full up to the limit our funds allow. We have at least a dozen boys and girls at the head of the school who are old enough to start life for themselves, but we can find no opening for them and we do not wish to turn them out unprovided for. This war has one more crime to lay to its charge in that it gives an excuse to so many firms, mercantile, railway, etc., to say 'No' when an application is made for a vacant post. We take a pride in training our children to turn out useful members of our Empire; our girls can all sew, cook, and take an active part in housework, and are brought up to be modest, helpful, womanly young women; our boys are trained to work and to obey, to be strong, useful, manly young men. Surely there are places in the world where such lads and girls can do good work, and we beg you to use your influence to get them the chance of proving what they are worth. All our great empire is more than ever realizing the value of the lives of its citizens, as they are being sacrificed by thousands month by month in the course of this world-wide struggle. Then help us in our sacred work of making out of these destitute orphans valuable citizens, men and women who will add to the nation's strength. In furthering this object we shall grudge no pains, but devote ourselves to train our children physically and mentally, but above all to imbue them with sound principles of Christian morality, in the prayerful hope that, when they are out in the world away from teacher's advice or friendly counsel, they may have the strength and courage to be faithful in their duty both to God and to man.

My devoted colleagues, whom I thank with all my heart for their loyal co-operation during the past year, can be relied on to do their best to help me in accomplishing these high aims.

W. E. WOOD.

Appendix A

Annual Medical Report of the Civil Orphan Asylum, Madras, for the year 1914

1. General health.—The general health of the children was not as good as last year. The number of admissions as in-patients was larger in 1914, namely 382 against 196 in 1913. Of this number 111 were for fevers of a simple nature, sixty-one for skin diseases (itch) and fifty-seven for measles. On an average about thirty children are brought daily to the hospital as out-patients. Sixteen children were admitted for treatment in the General Hospital, fourteen in the Isolation Hospital for measles and one in the Ophthalmic Hospital. Of the number admitted into the General Hospital seven proved to be enteric fever. It is gratifying to note that there were no fatal cases during the year.

2. Diet.—The revised diet scale is a great improvement on the old one. The children are well fed and a majority of them are steadily gaining in weight.

3. Epidemics.—There was an outbreak of measles from the end of February till about the end of April. There were in all fifty-seven attacks, of which number fourteen were sent to the Isolation Hospital, when the Asylum sheds became too full. The disease was in all probability imported by outsiders..

4. Hospital buildings.—The main building is in a good state of repair, but the isolation sheds need to be completely renovated. The boys' shed is too far away from the main building. It is recommended that a new shed be erected on a more convenient site.

5. Cost of medicines.—Rs. 75-7-5 in 1914 against Rs. 225-4-8 in 1913.

6. Staff.—Capt. W. C. Gray was in medical charge until 7th April, 1914, after which date Major H. Kirkpatrick took charge. Apothecary B. Raghavendra Rau was in subordinate medical charge until the 4th June, 1914, when he was relieved by Apothecary A. Wells. Nurse Dring has continued to be the nurse in immediate charge throughout the year and has performed her duties very efficiently.

7. General remarks.—The sanitation of the compound has been considerably improved of late, but deficiencies still exist and it is hoped that money may be found soon to complete the construction of drains and the filling up of low-lying places and wells. This is an urgent matter and should be taken in hand as early as possible.
