May it please your Excellency,

I beg to submit herewith to your Excellency's benign Government, 150 copies of "Loyalty and the Benefits of the British Rule in India" to be sold by being gazetted in the Fort St. George and the produce to be utilised for our fellow-brethren fighting in Europe for the sake of right and liberty. Your Excellency may note that your humble subjects and especially the Student population of the Madras Presidency can at present be more infused at heart with the noble sentiments of loyalty to His Majesty and gratitude for the innumerable benefits derived of His Majesty's Government in India - which to my entire satisfaction and to the best of my loyal pen I have striven to write in the form of a booklet and I sincerely think that it cannot but be more useful to them if presented with or if made to be purchased - as the Madras Mail, Miss Inglis, M.A., and others have rightly written about it.

Therefore may I humbly pray your Excellency in Council to confer on me that rare honour of allowing me to reprint the book, the cost for which may be got from the hospitable hands of the Government and all the copies to be presented to the student population of the Presidency or to be sold the produce of which to be utilised for the War Fund.

I humbly pray for a satisfactory answer from your Excellency's Government after a calm consideration. I wish to take this opportunity of informing your Excellency that by sanctioning this, my humble request, your Excellency's Government can expect from me voluntary services which cannot but be highly useful both to my fellow-brethren of this Presidency and your Excellency's Government.

I beg to remain,

May it please your Excellency.

"LOYALTY & THE BENEFITS OF THE BRITISH RULE IN INDIA"

BY
S. V. VIVEKANANDA

Author of "The Children of the New Forest" in Tamil.

"Loyalty and the Benefits of the British Rule in India" is a highly finished pamphlet of flowing periods. The author's word-painting and his sublime thoughts couched in a graceful elegant diction baffles all imitation. The treatise is characterised by passionate ardour, poetic fancy, the dazzling succession in which irony, pathos, invective, tenderness, the most brilliant word-pictures, the coolest argument follow each other. The harmonious flow of each and every sentence, the rich diction and the sublimity of the subject, which the author has culled out to dwell upon will spur every one to peruse and re-peruse this booklet with great inward joy. This book will die out only with the death of the Tamil Tongue. On studying this book closely again and again, High School and Collegiate students who appear for the Government Examinations with certainly score out good marks in Vernacular Composition. It is by all means quite fit to be in the hands of the young people."—The Madras Tamil Literary Publishing House.

The Indian Patriot says:—"It is written in a pure and simple style and will prove very interesting to the Tamil reading public. That the Indians are ever loyal to the core for the benefits England has done and been helping in the administration of this country is a fact which cannot be denied. The deep, spontaneous and universal feeling of loyalty which is at present manifested throughout India from the Maharaja down to the peasant at this war time will bear out this statement. The booklet in re: the booklet entitled "Loyalty and the benefits of the British rule in India"

From Dr R. S. V. Vivekananda mudaliyar -

Register No. 3339 Et!

To the Registrar,

Dr R. S. V. Vivekananda mudaliyar in forwarding 150 copies of his booklet entitled "Loyalty and the benefits of the British rule in India" requests

(1) that the copies may be sold and the sale-proceeds utilized for the war fund.

(2) that he may be allowed to reprint the book
at the cost of Govt. on condition that copies so printed shall be presented to the student population or sold, the sale proceeds being utilized for the War fund.

2. With regard to the first request above, it is for consideration whether the 150 copies may be forwarded to the D.P.D. ~~requesting~~ requesting him to take at 3 as per copy any no. of copies that he may find useful for educational institutions, to sell the rest in any way he deems fit in consultation with the S.G.P. and to arrange for the sale proceeds being credited to the war fund.

* the price fixed for the book.

3. As regards the second request in para 1 ante it is submitted that the Govt. cannot undertake, in the present financial stringency, to bear the cost of reprinting the book, since it is doubtful whether the book will be useful to the public and will find a ready sale so that the cost of printing at least may be recouped.

Before passing orders the D.P.O. may, perhaps be consulted w.o. as to whether the book is useful for educational institutions and whether he would take copies of the book if any for the use of those institutions.

I am informed that the book is in very defective condition and that in order to enhance the value of British Rule 1 partly 4 appears the imperfections of previous governments. It however contains a few corrections of British historical examples on locally.

I could distribute 50 copies and other purchase would be some recognition of the writer's good intentions.

29.11

For the Registrar

The D.P. I says that he will take 50 copies of the book for distribution in view of his remarks on the previous page it does not appear that the remaining 100 copies will find a ready sale and that it is worth while requesting ~~requesting~~ the D.P. I to arrange with ^{the} S. G. P. for their sale. It is therefore for consideration whether 50 copies may be taken and the sale proceeds given over to the war fund and the remaining 100 copies returned to the author ~~thanking him for his liberal offer~~ ~~leaving him to arrange for their sale himself~~ and stating that the Govt. regret that they are unable to comply with his request that he may be allowed to reprint the book at Govt expense.
