Sir,

101-2 ante

with reference to Government Memorandum No. 3874-2 dated 9th November 1916, I have the honour to state that a teaching grant was refused to the Coimbatore College as its financial statement showed that it had worked for the year at a considerable profit and it was consequently ineligible for any teaching grant under the Grant-in-Aid Code. The fact that a profit was realised on the working of that year does not prove that the finances of the College are generally sound. What is done with profits realised

2. As regards the refusal of grants for furniture, I beg to point out that, in connection with the construction of a Science Laboratory, the College Committee raised in the year 1912 a debenture loan of Rs. 9,700/- on the old College buildings. Out of this, a sum of Rs. 1000/- has been wiped off, some of the debenture-holders having converted their loans into donations. As things stand at present, the Committee have contributed nothing to the cost of their new science buildings, having merely diminished the value of their old buildings by burdening them with a debt of Rs. 8,700/-. When the Committee were first allowed to raise the loan it was certainly on the understanding that it was a temporary expedient and that it would be extinguished as until this is done the Committee will not have performed their share of the bargain implicit in all building grant sanctions. So far, they have shown no disposition to do this although they have a considerable sum in the Bank subscribed for the College. The fact that it is proposed to take over the College is a special reason why ~~the~~ the College should be free, as soon as possible, from any encumbrance, as otherwise the responsibility of extinguishing these debentures will devolve on Government.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

HISTORY.

The Coimbatore College Committee have the honour to publish their report of the working of the College for the years 1914-15 and 1915-16 with some necessary remarks with reference to the present year.

The first nucleus of the college was an Anglo-Vernacular school started in 1852 under the auspices of the late Mr. E. B. THOMAS, the then Collector of Coimbatore. The school was located in the central front three rooms of the present building. The memory of this pioneer of English education is kept alive by the erection in 1869 of the hall in which we are assembled to-day. After the departure of Mr. Thomas the institution was helped and guided by our respected citizen Mr. Robert Stanes. By the year 1867, the institution had developed into the Coimbatore High school with the late Mr. C. C. Flanagan, afterwards our Principal, as the Head Master. The Collegiate course was instituted in 1868. The inspection reports until 1898 when Mr. Flanagan left the College for service under Government speak very highly of the tone and discipline of the College. The memorial of this most popular head of the College has been perpetuated by the Flanagan memorial rooms forming the wings of the College buildings on either side. Mr. Mark Hunter who now occupies a high position in the Madras Educational service and in the Senate was the Principal for about 10 years till June 1899. Under his able management, the prestige and efficiency of the college rose still higher. The College shows a good record of progress under ---- from 1900, Mr. E. H. Elliot who was Principal for five years from 1905, and the late Mr. R. Krishnia, Vice-Principal, who had acted as Principal several times for long intervals. There have been many changes in the Principalship from 1910 till 1914. Mr. K. S. Vaidinatha Iyer was appointed to act as Principal on 25th September 1914, then on probation on 22nd July 1915, and eventually confirmed on 7th August 1916. The Committee is glad to note that the institution which had not been thriving financially and otherwise on account of recurring plague visitations and too many changes in the office of the Principal since 1910, has now begun to improve and to show the prospect of its regaining its old high position in the near future.

Constitution.

The affairs of the College were formerly managed by a Committee consisting mostly of life members who had the power to fill up the vacancies in the Committee as they occurred. Mr. Robert Stanes was the Committee's Secretary for many years, and had, in that capacity, lent a hearty and helping hand to the institution whenever there was financial embarrassment. After Mr. Robert Stanes, the late Mr. N. Anasami Rao, Government Pleader, Mr. T. S. Balakrishna Aiyar, his successor as Government Pleader, Mr. H. Rama Rao, Pleader and Mr. C. M. Padmanabacher, High Court Vakil, were the Secretaries. In 1913-14 the generous public of the District were approached for donations for a permanent Endowment Fund. With the kind patronage and hearty support of 1914-15 amounted rupees was subscribed and about Rupees Thirty two thousand and odd was paid. Under the sympathetic guidance of Mr. Hemmingway, the donors and the then Committee came to an understanding, and the College was registered under Act XXI of 1860, and its management was transferred to the hands of an elected Committee. The old traditions of the College were still kept up by the District Collector and the District Judge continuing as the President and Vice-President ex-officio, and Mr. Robert Stanes as a life-member of the Committee. The present Committee consists of 12 elected members besides the President, ^{the vice-President,} and Mr. Stanes. The College Endowment Fund vests in a body of 12 trustees of which Mr. T. A. Ramalingam Chettiar is the Honorary Secretary. The Honorary Secretary to the College is elected annually by the College Committee. The first elected Secretary was Rao Bahadur M. G. Arogyasawmy Pillai, and the next Secretary was the late lamented Rao Bahadur C. Nagoji Rao both of them old boys of the College. In the death of Mr. Nagoji Rao, the Committee has sustained an irreparable loss at a time when his services were most needed. One pleasing feature of the present Committee is that most of its elected members are old boys of the College.

Finance.

The Committee under the new constitution took charge of the institution with an opening balance of -- Rs.5295-15-6. The receipts for the year 1914-15 amounted to Rs.33527-7-4 which includes Rs.8309 being ordinary and special teaching grants from Government.

The expenditure for the year 1914-15 amounted and electric installation, water-tank, pipe fittings etc. The year 1915-16 started with a deficit of Rs.3146-5-11. The total receipts for the year 1915-16 were Rs.34410-15-3 which includes Rs.3742 being grants for teaching, furniture and apparatus, and Rs.1575-4-9 being the interest on the College Endowment Fund paid by the trustees. The total expenditure for the year 1915-16 amounts to Rs. 31002-0-3, and, this leaves an opening balance of --- Rs.3417-14-7 for the current year. Though on account of the larger admissions the sum realised by fees in 1915-16 was in excess of the collections in 1914-15, there is a fall in the collections in the current year owing to the fall in the admissions to the Junior Intermediate class. The increase in receipts in 1915-16 and in the current year, due to the interest on the Endowment Fund, is more than counter-balanced by increase in expenditure due to the institution of the Teachers' Provident Fund and the new scale of graded salaries for the teachers. [The Director of Public Instruction, has, however, been pleased to refuse grants not only for furniture and the library but also the usual teaching grant, as, in his opinion, the financial condition of the College did not warrant sanctioning of any grant. The Committee had decided upon improving the library and introducing new model furniture gradually in the course of a few years so as to satisfy the needs suggested by the University Commission and in the inspection reports. The refusal of grants has made this practically impossible for the present, and, the committee apprehend some amount of financial refusing the grants is that the College is still indebted to the extent of Rs.8700 out of the debenture loans raised in the year 1912 for construction of the new laboratory building. These debentures are payable in the course of 20 years and affect only the main building as security. The value of the main building has been estimated at Rs.20,000 for the purposes of fire insurance and it is certainly worth much more. The laboratory buildings for which Government was pleased to give a grant of Rs. 6000 is not affected by the debenture at all. The original debenture loan amounted to Rs.9700. Of this, Rs.1000 has been wiped off, some debenture holders having been pleased to convert their loans into donations. The Committee has reason to hope that another portion of the debenture loan might become donation in course of time. The Committee would urge upon the Director of Public Instruction that the existence of the debenture loan does not in any way affect the financial stability of the College. The last item under head finance worth mentioning is the endowment instituted by the old students of the College, in memory of the late Mr. Vaithilingam Pillai, the most popular master of the High school department, for over 30 years. A sum of Rs.3000 is invested in the District Urban Bank Ltd., Coimbatore, and the interest is divided between two scholarships available for students of merit in the College classes.

Accommodation
and other needs.

The standing grievance of the College is want of accommodation. The Un-library classes. The number of divisions in the forms has increased, and, the Principal had often to refuse, for want of seats, admission to students specially preferring this institution. For about six years two classes were accommodated in a large thatched shed put up in the open space east of the main hall. In the College Branch, where every form and class has swelled into 3 divisions, two of the classes and the Teachers' room are accommodated in ~~the~~ rented building for the last one year. Almost the whole amount allotted for repairs in the current budget was spent in the College in enlarging one of the rooms in the cottage building in the rear, in altering the tiled tiffin shed for the Pandits' classes, and putting up a new tiffin shed. This has only helped the removal of the thatched shed east of the main hall repeatedly condemned by the Inspector of schools. The grievance of want of accommodation continues as keen as ever. The Committee earnestly looks to Government for help, and, hope that the Old Hospital Buildings may be handed over to the College in whose welfare the whole of the educated public in the District ought to be interested.

Appeal to the public.

The present disastrous war paralyzed the cotton trade and industry of Coimbatore, and, there was no near prospect of getting the arrears of subscriptions promised for the College endowment. The aspect of the war has happily changed and trade in the District is regaining its normal level. It is hoped that the generous public will now pay up their donations and that the trust-of the amount ~~is~~ still due.

Conclusion.

Thanks of the Committee are due to various gentlemen that have already paid liberal donations, to Mr. C. V. Venkataramana Aiyangar, High Court Vakil, for payment of Rs.50 per annum for the Rukmani Ammal scholarship, to the Coronation Park Committee for the free use of the Park ground allowed to the College boys for their sports, and, to Mr. A. R. Cumming, I.C.S. our good Collector, for his sympathetic co-operation with the Committee in its attempts to improve the condition of the College.

Collector's note, dated 3rd October 1916.-

The only point therein that seems to call for note from me is the request that the old hospital buildings be handed over to the College Committee as regards which I invite a reference to the correspondence ending with Government (L & M) Memorandum No.18-2 L/O, dated 13th June 1916. The question is at present under consideration and it is possible that a solution acceptable to all the parties concerned will be reached before the date of His Excellency's visit.

History of the Institution.

The Coimbatore College owes its existence to the late Mr. Edmund Brown Thomas who was Collector of Coimbatore from 1849 to 1863. Established at first in 1853 as a purely elementary school, the institution gradually developed and in 1867 sent up pupils for the first time for the Matriculation examination. It was subsequently raised to the status of a Second Grade College and was ~~affiliated~~ as such to the University of Madras in 1877. This position is still maintained. A recommendation has recently been made to the Government of India that the institution should be taken over under the management of the Government in connection with the model secondary school scheme.

2. Constitution and management.

The College was formerly under the management of a Committee composed of some of the leading Indian and European gentlemen of the station, the District Judge and the Collector being ex-officio President and Vice-president according to seniority and one of the members acting as Secretary. The Committee made all appointments and sanctioned all expenditure other than ordinary contingent expenditure, but allowed a free hand to the Principal in all matters relating to ~~internal~~ internal discipline and management. The

The Commission appointed ^{by} the University of Madras in 1905 for the inspection of ^{all} ~~the~~ Colleges affiliated to the University noticed that the Committee had no regular constitution and accordingly recommended ~~the~~ ^{its} incorporation under the Indian Companies Act and the compilation of a set of rules defining its powers and those of the Secretary as well as the relation of the Principal to the Committee and to the Secretary. This suggestion has since been acted upon, and the College is now managed by a Committee most of whom are elected as stated in the address.

3. Staff, strength &c.

The College is affiliated to the University in groups

- (i) (a) Mathematics, (b) Physics, (c) Chemistry.
- (ii) (a) Natural science, (b) Physics, (c) Chemistry.
- & (iii) History, Logic, and Languages (Sanskrit, Tamil, Malayalam, and Urdu.)

The Principal of the College is M.R. Ry. K.S. Vaighyanatha Ayyar, M.A.B.T., who is also a member of the Committee. ~~There are~~ Besides the Principal, there are ~~three~~ on the staff of the College a Master of Arts, ~~three~~ Bachelors of Arts, ~~three~~ of whom are also Licentiates in Teaching, and five Pundits ~~for~~ for teaching Vernaculars.

The following statement ~~gives~~ gives the strength of the institution for the past three years.

4. Finance.

The College had till recently no endowment of any kind and mainly depended on fees and Government grants for ~~the~~ support. On the recommendation of the University Commission of 1905 to secure a permanent endowment for the College, steps were taken to collect the necessary subscriptions. Of a lakh of rupees promised as subscriptions, only Rs. 32,000 appear to have been actually collected hitherto. This sum has been vested in a body of twelve Trustees. In September 1914 the D.P.I. wrote that, in view of its slender resources, the College had for some time past been unable to make both ends meet without the support of Government. The following statement shows the expenditure incurred in the maintenance of the institution during each of the three years 1912-13, 1913-14 and 1914-15, and the sources from which it was met:---

Figures for 1915-16 are not available and it has ~~been~~ therefore not been possible to check the figures given in the address. The exact circumstances which led the Director to refuse grants during the current year are not known. As the College is one of the institutions recommended by the Director himself to be ultimately taken over by Government, it is not likely that he would have refused to entertain reasonable requests made by the Committee. Besides, owing to the conditions brought about by the war, ~~the~~ the grant at the disposal of the Director is necessarily limited and he has to distribute the amount available to institutions that are sorely in need of aid.

5. Accommodation.

The College buildings belong

Page 62 of the University Commissioner's Report

belong to the management and provide suitable accommodation. The sanitary arrangements also appear satisfactory. Attention is solicited to para. 4 of the D.P.I.'s letter on page 18 of G.O.No.536, Educational dated the 16th May 1916, in which he stated that no additional buildings would immediately be required for the College if the old Municipal Hospital buildings were acquired. The authorities of the College now request that those buildings may be secured for them. The question is now pending with the Collector of Coimbatore who expects to come to a conclusion in the matter acceptable to all parties prior to the date of His Excellency's visit.

6. Hostel.

There is a hostel attached to the College providing accommodation for about 36 students.

7. Library.

The library at present contains about 2600 volumes, and books to the value of Rs.500 are being added every year. There is also a reading room attached, for the use of which a small subscription is levied from the students.

8. SCHOLARSHIPS.

(1) The Vaidhyalingam Memorial scholarship of the value of Rs.90 a year and tenable for two years is awarded every year to a poor and deserving student of

of the junior intermediate class on the result of a competition examination in English and Elementary Mathematics.

(ii) The Venkataramana Ayyangar Rukmani Ammal scholarship of the value of Rs.55 a year is offered to a student of the junior intermediate class who shows ability in the S.S.L.C. examination.

In addition to the above there are, on an average, two free scholarships for every class and form in the institution.

Mr. Cumming, Members of the Committee, Ladies and Gentlemen,

It was with great pleasure that I accepted
the invitation of the Committee of the Coimbatore College to be present here today and whether it was happy chance or careful premeditation on the part of the Committee that led to this function coinciding with my visit to Coimbatore, I assure you that I value greatly the privilege of presenting the prizes to the successful students of the College and of getting some insight into the conditions under which the work of this important institution is being conducted.

In the first place I have been greatly interested in the account to which we have just listened of its progress from its start as an elementary school up to the present day when with 700 scholars in the combined school and college it is one of the most important institutions in the Presidency. That progress has been largely due to the ability and devotion of a long succession of Principals and teachers whose names and services I am glad to find are still gratefully remembered and in some cases permanently associated with the College buildings; and due partly also to those citizens of Coimbatore, old students of the College and others who have given their assistance as members of the Committee and as Honorary Secretary. I am sure you will permit me here specially to refer to Mr. Robert Stanes whose interest in and goodwill to this College have been active for so many years and still continue unminished. It must be a source of satisfaction to him and to other benefactors of the College to feel that by their efforts they have notably advanced the cause of education in this town. You still have wants and aspirations, and of the former the most urgent is as you say additional accommodation. I understand that it may be possible to utilise the old hospital buildings for the purpose and I am glad to say that Mr. Cumming the Collector who is also the President of your Committee informs me that he now anticipates no difficulty in arranging for a transfer on terms acceptable to all parties.

You are not free from financial difficulties, but I feel sure, if any normal Government grant has been reduced or withdrawn, that is due to the exigencies of the moment. Your representations will however be brought to the notice of the Director of Public Instruction. In the meantime I would remind those who have promised but not paid subscriptions to the endowment fund of the old Latin proverb 'bis dat qui cito dat' 'he gives twice who gives promptly': and I would earnestly second the appeal of the Committee for the fulfilment of these promises.

Now, ladies and gentlemen, we must not forget our young friends here and first I would thank them on behalf of all present for the welcome and entertainment they have given us. I am sure we have all admired the address and elocutionary skill with which the various recitations have been delivered.

I would also heartily congratulate all the prize-winners on their success and in that I am sure that their fellow students will heartily and sincere join. For I think that among school boys the true meaning of the word 'prize' is often better understood than by their elders. To us the word prize is apt to connote something seized by force in the fierce competition of life where one man's gain is another man's loss. But the word as used with reference to today's ceremony has quite another meaning. It is connected with the word praise; and those awards which I have had the privilege of distributing do not represent something wrested from others but are marks of encouragement and approbation. They indicate not exclusive privileges but that their recipients have shown each in his separate sphere that desire for knowledge, that spirit of honest endeavour and that readiness to contribute to the corporate life of their school which it is open to every student, whether prize-winner or not, to acquire and to manifest, and on the diffusion of which the good name and the usefulness of a school depend. On your behalf, ladies and gentlemen, I heartily congratulate the individual prize-winners on the awards they have received today. It will I hope encourage them to further and sustained endeavours to utilise the advantages they here enjoy to work for the honour of their school and to fit themselves to become worthy citizens and to play a worthy part in the battle of life. But not to them only do our good wishes go forth. I feel sure that we desire also to express our hearty goodwill to the College, to its staff and to all its students. Among these hundreds of boys aptitudes and tastes will differ and that widely; and we may well wish success to the staff in their efforts to draw them out and to guide them aright. For the students I can offer no better wish than that their connection with this College may ever be to them an influence for good which they will gratefully remember, and that the ideals of conduct of duty and of manners here presented may enable them whatever their life work may be to perform it with credit to themselves and so as to bring honour upon this place.
