

Edd (1916) Department.

mis SERIES.

G.O. No. 308 Edd

DATED 22-3-16

[Despatch Abstract.]

Lieut W. W. Jarvis Recording papers relating to the application of _____ for employment in the I. E. S.

BACK PAPERS.

| G.O. | No. | Department. | Date. | G.O. | No. | Department. | Date. |
|------|-----|-------------|-------|------|-----|-------------|-------|
|      |     |             |       |      |     |             |       |

FURTHER PAPERS.

| G.O. | No. | Department. | Date. | G.O. | No. | Department. | Date. |
|------|-----|-------------|-------|------|-----|-------------|-------|
|      |     |             |       |      |     |             |       |

D.O. No. 44 ✓

Government of India,
DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.
(Education)

Delhi, the 17 December 1915.

Dear Mr. Todhunter,

I am desired to forward a copy of the papers noted in the

|                                                                                                                                     |   |                           |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---|---------------------------|
| Letter from the Government of the Punjabno.333, dated the 15th November 1915 andenclosures, viz -                           | : | margin with a view to     |
| Application of Lieut. W.W. Jervis, 1/4thDevon Regiment, for employment in theIndian Educational Service, with testimonials. | : | bringing the name of      |
| -----                                                                                                                               | : | Lieut. W.W. Jervis, 1/4th |

Devon Regiment, Ferozepore, who is a candidate for the Indian Educational Service, to the notice of the Governor in Council.

It will be observed that Lieut. Jervis is not in a position to take up an educational appointment during the continuance of the war.

Yours sincerely,

G. Madras.

The Hon'ble Mr. C.G. Todhunter, I.C.S.,
Ag. Secretary to the Government of Madras,
Educational Department.

No. 333, dated the 15th November 1915.

From—J. A. RICHY, Esq., M.A., Officiating Under-Secretary to the Government of the Punjab, Home (Education) Department,

To—The Secretary to the Government of India, Department of Education.

I am directed to refer to paragraph 3 (ii) of the Government of India, Department of Education, letter no 2259, dated the 3rd October 1912, and to forward for the favourable consideration of the Government of India, the application, with connected papers, of Lieutenant W. W. Jervis, 1-4th Devon Regiment, for appointment to the Indian Educational Service.

- |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                         |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                     |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 1. Name in full . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Walter Willson Jervis.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                              |
| 2. Address . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                    | 1st-4th Devon Regiment, Ferozepore.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 |
| 3. Age last birthday, with date and place of birth.                                                                                                                                                                                     | 23 years. Born 15th November 1891, at Gateshead, Durham.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            |
| 4. Married or Single (Number and ages of children, if any).                                                                                                                                                                             | Single.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 5. Health (past and present) . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Excellent; both past and present.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
| 6. Father's name, nationality, and occupation (state whether living or dead).                                                                                                                                                           | Charles William Jervis. English. Police. Dead.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      |
| 7. Post and approximate salary desired .                                                                                                                                                                                                | Professorship or Inspectorship, Indian Educational Service. Salary on the Scale of Pay of that Service.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                             |
| 8. Duration of visits or residence abroad .                                                                                                                                                                                             | Arrived in India in 1914.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                           |
| 9. Names of districts abroad of which the applicant has special knowledge.                                                                                                                                                              | .....                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |
| 10. Particulars and dates of any important appointments, e.g. , Headmasterships or Principalships, Administrative posts, University Professorships, Lectureships, or the like, for which the applicant has stood or is standing. | Am at present employed on the Staff of University College, Exeter.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 11. Athletics—(a) experience in organizing games; (b) proficiency in Athletics.                                                                                                                                                         | (a) 1. Was Secretary to College Football Team while at University.2. Coach the Rugby Football Team of University College, Exeter.3. Undergone Course Organised Games' of Syllabus of Board of 1st Class Certificate in Theory and Practice of Education, England, Physical Exercises.(b) Was awarded Colours for Durham County in Junior County Championship (Rugby Football). Play Hockey, Association Football and (Tennis a little). |
| 12. Date of application . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                       | .....                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                               |

|                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                 | Name of School or College.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                       | Name of Principal.                                                                                  | Dates of joining and leaving.                                                                                   | Scholarships, Certificates, Degrees and other Honours.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                   |
|-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 13. School education . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                                  | Safeshead Secondary School.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                      | W. Walton, Esq., B. A. (Lond).                                                                      | .....                                                                                                           | Three local scholarships and Bursaries. Then "King's Scholarship" 1909.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                  |
| 14. University education, if any . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                      | Armstrong College, Durham University.                                                                                                                                                                                                                                            | Dr. Hadow, M. A., etc., Vice Principal, Professor G. A. Lebour, D.Sc., M.A., F.G.S., F.R.G.S., etc. | 1910—1913.                                                                                                      | Entered University in 1910 took my degree B.Sc. in pure Science (1913) in 1913. [But for the fact that I am in service I would have sent in my M.Sc., thesis in June of this year. I also hope to be elected to a Fellowship of the Royal Geographical Society at the November meeting of the Council.]                                  |
| 15. Professional training as a teacher, if any:—(If a holder of the Board of Education's parchment certificate, the date of the examination and the class in which the applicant was placed in each part of the examination must be shown.) | Trained as a student teacher then entered for course of 3 years training—Durham University. Was awarded the Parchment Certificate of the Board of Education after the Examination of 1913. Placed in first class and chosen to represent my year in Practical Teaching.          | Professor M. R. Wright M.A., Head of Normal Department.                                             | .....                                                                                                           | As result of a visit of three of H. M. Inspectors I was duly certified by the Board of Education as a Tutor in British Training Colleges in 1913.                                                                                                                                                                                        |
| 16. Teaching employment . . . . .                                                                                                                                                                                                               | Higher Grade School, Gateshead, Durham.University College, Exeter, Devon.                                                                                                                                                                                                    | L. G. W. Scott, Esq.Principal A. Clayden, M.A., F.G.S.                                          | Dates of joining and leaving.June 1913—Sept. 1913.Octr. 1913 am and still on the staff of this College. | Position and character of work done, also salary received.Lecturer in the University Side in Geography, Geology and Mathematics while in the Department of Education I am Master of Method; and so the bulk of the work of Organisation in connection with Training College work falls to my lot. £150 per annum (Rising scale). |
| 17. Other employment . . . . .(All employment to be entered in order of time.)                                                                                                                                                              | Re-joined my Regiment 1-4th Battalion, Devon Regiment on mobilization. [A platoon informed by men of the College, of which I am at present a member of the Staff] I am now on duty at Dalhousie as Adjutant and Quartermaster to the (Wing) of the Regiment now stationed there. |                                                                                                     |                                                                                                                 |                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                                          |

18. References:—

1. Name, Address, Occupation or position. Professor A. E. Dean, M.A., M.Litt. University College, Exeter. Professor of Education.
2. Name, Address, Occupation or Position. Principal A. Clayden M.A., F.G.S. University College, Exeter. Principal of the College.
3. Name, Address, Occupation or position. Lieutenant Colonel Acland-Troyte, Commanding 1-4th Devon Regiment, Ferozepore.

19. Copies of testimonials from:—

- 1 Professor M. R. Wright, M.A., Professor of Education, Durham University.
2. Professor G. A. Lebour, M.A., D.Sc., F. G. S., etc., Professor of Geology, Durham University and Vice Principal Armstrong College, Durham University.
3. G. H. Thomson, Esq., D.Sc., Ph.D., Durham University.
4. W. Watson, Esq., B.D., Late Head of centre for Training of Student Teachers—Gateshead-on-Tyne.

20. Observations.

I am of course specially suited to work in Training of Teachers and to Inspection work; for the past two years I have done a great deal of school visiting in connection with the work of Training of Teachers; I have had a considerable amount of experience of course in organisation. [As Adjutant to the Wing of a Regiment, the practice in Organisation is not lacking]. I am keenly interested in modern Geography and the method of teaching the same.

Department of Education. Armstrong College.
Professor Mark R. Wright M. A. In the University of Durham.

Training College for Teachers.

Mr. Walter W. Jervis will complete in June a Three Year University Course in this Training College. He has taken an active interest in all that pertains to the life of the college. He is a Sergeant in the Officers' Training Corps, President of the Students Education Society and generally is one of the good forces in the College.

As a Teacher Mr. Jervis is exceedingly good; he is confident and reliant; maintains first rate discipline and is aided by his adaptability and considerable dramatic ability.

I have the very highest opinion of his personal qualifications and I recommend him without any reservation.

MARK R. WRIGHT,
Professor of Education and Head of the Day
Training Department.

April 23rd, 1913.

University of Durham.

Armstrong College,
Newcastle-on-Tyne,
16th June 1913.

Mr. W. W. Jervis has been a student in Geology in this College for the past three Sessions. He has shown great aptitude and keenness and has struck me particularly by his faculty for seizing the essentials of any point whilst giving subordinate but adequate attention to details.

I gather both from the excellent work he has done, both in College and in the field, that he would prove an especially good teacher of Geography of the modern kind. He has a good style in writing and expresses himself with ease and lucidity.

I should regard any institution which avails itself of his services as a lecturer as lucky in every way. With both pupils and staff he is sure to be popular.

I may add, though it will not be officially published till Saturday next, that Mr. Jervis has satisfied the examiners in Geology for the Degree of B. Sc. This, I beg, may be taken as being stated in confidence.

G. A. LEBOUR, M. A., D. Sc.
Professor of Geology and Vice Principal.

Gateshead Education Committee.

20th March 1913.

I hereby certify that Mr. W. W. Jervis was a Student Teacher under the Gateshead Education Committee and that his year of "Preliminary Teaching" was spent in Brighton Avenue Boy's School under Mr. W. Simms.

I have the very greatest pleasure and confidence in giving my testimony in his favour. His aptitude for the work of teaching became increasingly evident during his period of probation and his whole attitude and performance in school gave convincing proof that he belongs to the line of real and good teachers.

His fine personality, his intelligence, his bright vivid methods, energy and zeal all contributed to deepen the impression that the total effect of his teaching would be of a most quickening kind and would become increasingly valuable as experience accumulated.

I rank him as belonging to the true "teaching order" and I give my most conscientious testimony in his favour.

W. WATSON,
Superintendent of Student-Teachers.

University College,
Exeter.

12th October 1915.

Mr. W. W. Jervis was a student of mine at Armstrong College Newcastle-on-Tyne for three years, taking the degree of B. Sc. in June 1913.

We thought highly of him there, and when I took up my present post as Professor of Education at University College, Exeter, I secured his appointment as my assistant in that Department. He lectured also in Geography and in Mathematics. On coming to Exeter he took a Commission in the Devon Territorials, and soon after the outbreak of war proceeded to India with his regiment.

Mr. Jervis is a man of keen intelligence, with a genuine interest in education. He is himself a vivid and convincing teacher, with a fund of enthusiasm likely to communicate itself to his students. He gave me loyal and valuable assistance in the Teachers' Training Department here. The letters I have had from him since he went to India show that he has been greatly interested in the problems of Indian education and I feel that I can with full confidence support his application for an appointment in the Indian Educational Service.

A. E. DEAN, M. A. (Dunelm),
Professor of Education,
University College,
Exeter.

In November of last year I came out to India on Service with my regiment, 1st-4th Battalion, Devon Regiment (Territorial Force), and at present I am on duty as Adjutant and Quartermaster to the "Wing" of the Regiment stationed at Dalhousie. I like India very much and wish to enter the Indian Educational Service.

I am in my twenty-fourth year and unmarried.

Education.—Entering Durham University in 1910 I read Science and graduated in Pure Science in 1913. I took the three years University Course for Training of Teachers and possess the Board of Education's Certificate as a Trained Teacher. I secured a 1st Class in Practice as well as Theory of Teaching; and represented my year in Practical Teaching at the Annual Governmental Inspection of 1913. I specialised in Geology and Education.

While in College I took a keen interest in the social life of the place—being an official of the Football Club and being Senior Student of my year, President of the Educational Society. In connection with the University Contingent of the Officers' Training Corps I rose to the rank of Sergeant and hold "A" (Lieutenant's) and "B" (Captain's) Certificates.

Athletics.—Have always taken the keenest interest in Athletics and was awarded my Colours for Durham County in Junior County Rugby Football. I was Secretary to my College Football Team and so have had considerable experience in the organising of games. At Exeter I coach the Team of University College. As a result of examination at the end of a year's course, I was awarded 1st Class Certificate in Theory and Practice of Physical Training (Armstrong College, Durham University).

Teaching Experience.—I did a year's training as a Student-Teacher before entering College and the day I left College I was appointed to the Staff of Higher Grade School, Gateshead-on-Tyne and stayed there but a short time before the Council of the University College, Exeter, offered me a post on the staff of that College.

At Exeter there are two sides to the University College—

A. Normal Department.—for Training of Teachers under Board of Education and for preparation for Diplomas in Pedagogy of University of London and Cambridge.

B. The University Side.—In the Former Department I am Master of Method and so the work of organisation in Training College falls largely to my lot. (It was in 1913, after the usual visit of three Government Inspectors, that I was recognised as a Tutor in British Training Colleges). In the University Department I lecture in Geography (Modern) and take all Training College Mathematics.

So that I am equally qualified for the duties of Training College work and Inspectorship as for Lectureship work.

Testimonials.—Although I naturally have not my testimonials with me in India (but I could cable for them if deemed necessary) I possess them from—

1. The Headmaster at whose school I received my early training in Teaching.
  2. The Principal of the Centre under whom I served as a Student Teacher (1909-10).
  3. Professor G. A. Lebour, M.A., D.Sc., F.G.S., F.R.G.S., etc., Vice Principal, Armstrong College and Professor of Geology, Durham University.
  4. Professor M. R. Wright, M.A., Professor of Education, Durham University.
  5. G. H. Thomson, Esq., D.Sc., Ph. D., Master of Method, Normal Department, Armstrong College, Durham University.
- References.*—1. My Present Principal, A. W. Clayden, Esq., M.A., Principal, University College, Exeter.
2. Professor A. E. Dean, M.A., M. Litt. Professor of Education, University College, Exeter.

3. Colonel H. L. Acland-Troyte, Commanding 1-4th Battalion, Devon Regiment (Ferozepore).

W. W. JERVIS,
(B.Sc., Dunelm).

Forwarded and approved on the understanding that Lieutenant Jervis is not asked to take up his appointment before the termination of the war should he be successful.

HUGH ACLAND TROYTE, Lt.-Col.,
4th Devon Regiment.

FEROZEPORE:

The 12th July 1915.

Educational Department.

Lieut. W. W. Jervis appears to be a specialist in Geology among other subjects. Submitted that the D. I. may be requested w.d. to report whether he considers Lieut Jervis to be suitable for the post of Professor of Geology in the Presidency College, in the place of Mr. Datta, whom it has been decided to not to confirm.

22.12.15
22.12.15

23.12.15

D. I. I. u. O.

10.2.16

I should like to know more about his studies in Geology before expressing an opinion as to his fitness for a Professorship. What class did he take in The B.Sc. Ex? How long was his course in Geology. Littlehales thinks the Annamalai College degree course is three years but there is mention of three sessions only in Geology.

He is evidently the type of man whom one would like to see in the department but probably is more fit for inspecting a training college work than for special work in Geology.

3.1.16.

Page 3. 486

File on the subject is linked

No need to send the linked file to

Mr D. I. I.

25.12.15

25.12.15

25.12.15

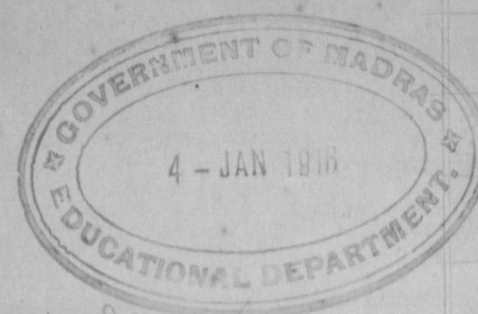

Eol 404489-1

23.12.15

Page 4

Noted in CO

4.1.16

Educational Dept.

It is submitted for orders whether the information required by the D.P. I at A in his note on the previous page may be obtained from the Govt of India. If so, the following D.O. may issue: Lt Tervis can take up the appointment, if conferred, only after the termination of his term.

D.O. No. 4489-1 28
5.1.16

My dear MacLagan,

With reference to the Anderson's D.O. No. 74 of the 17th ultimo. with which the application of Mr. W. W. Tervis for employment in the I.E.S. was forwarded to this Govt., I am to request you to obtain and furnish information as to the class in which Mr. Tervis passed the B.Sc. examination and the period of his course in geology in the Armstrong College. This information will be useful in deciding his suitability for appointment as successor to Mr. Dave as Professor of geology in the Presidency College, Madras - vide my D.O.

(In the linked file) No. 4245-1, of 13.12.15

Yours sincerely

5.1.16.

The Honble Sir E. D. MacLagan
K.C.S.E., C.S.P.

Noted in CB
7.1.16

5.1.16
4/1/16

C No 378 <sup>44</sup>
31-1-16.

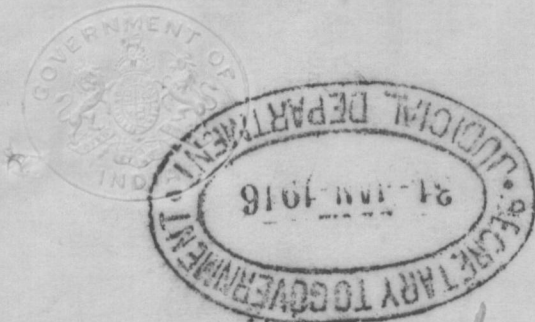

T.O. No 31 Ed<sup>n</sup>

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.

Delhi, the 25th January 1916

For Ed<sup>n</sup>

20.1.16.

My dear Todhunter,

Will you please refer to your demi-official letter no.4489-1 Edl., dated the 5th January 1916, enquiring in what class Mr. Jervis passed the B.Sc. examination and the period of his course in Geology in the Armstrong College ?

2. It is regretted that the Government of India are not in a position to supply this information without making enquiries from the Punjab Government. Such inquiries are being made, and you will be supplied with the information asked for as soon as it is available. I am however to point out that it will be impossible to secure Mr. Jervis' services until after the war, and it seems therefore inadvisable for your Government to entertain any expectation of securing his services in time to relieve Mr. Daru at the end of March when the latter reverts to the Geological Survey Department.

Yours sincerely,

Handwritten signature

The Hon'ble Mr. C.G. Todhunter, I.C.S.,
Secretary to the Government of Madras,
Educational Department.

J.B.N.

Educational Department

In the circumstances stated in the d.o. on page 10 supra, the proposal to appoint Mr. Jervis as Professor of Geology in the place of Mr. Davis in the Presidency College may be dropped. If this is approved, the Secretary of State may, it is submitted, be addressed for the recruitment of an officer to take Mr. Davis's place. The necessary action is being taken in the linked file.

2. This file may lie over pending receipt of the further information promised in Mr. MacLagan's d.o.

p. 10 supra

no. no. 378-180
2-2-16.

Recd. 2/2/16

Typed
below

La

La
1.2.16

2/2/16

D. S. I. La

B

no. 25 of 5. 2. 16

2/2/16.

A. I think this is the best course particularly if the India Office would advertise and if the Secretary of State would be willing if necessary to treat a man on more than Rs 500. From an economic point of view it seems particularly desirable that the Study of Geology should receive more encouragement.

As regards advertising I discussed this over at home with W. L. of the India Office and C. Heath of the Board of Education.

3rd March 1916

In the circumstances stated in the above letter, the proposal to appoint a Professor of Geology in the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. is a very desirable one. It is submitted that the Secretary of State may wish to consider the appointment of an officer to take the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. in the Indian Office. The necessary arrangements for the appointment of an officer to take the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. in the Indian Office are being made in the Indian Office. The necessary arrangements for the appointment of an officer to take the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. in the Indian Office are being made in the Indian Office.

The necessary arrangements for the appointment of an officer to take the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. in the Indian Office are being made in the Indian Office. The necessary arrangements for the appointment of an officer to take the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. in the Indian Office are being made in the Indian Office. The necessary arrangements for the appointment of an officer to take the place of the late Mr. J. H. B. in the Indian Office are being made in the Indian Office.

Public Secretary

Education 10

No. 25 dated 5-2-16.

11/16/16

A. I think this is the best course particularly if the India Office would advertise and if the Secretary of State would be willing if necessary to start a man on more than Rs. 500. From an economic point of view it seems particularly desirable that the study of Geology should receive more encouragement.

As regards advertising I discussed this when at home with Mr. Seton of the India Office and Dr. Heath of the Board of Education and also Sir John Struthers. Dr. Heath is opposed to it, saying that it involves a lot of trouble to some one and that the publicity deters good men from applying. This I don't for a moment believe. For its economics professorship the University had Dr. Scott and Dr. Slater besides others--Mr. Seton has not I think very decided views. Sir John Struthers warmly supported me when the matter was informally discussed in the Committee assembled to select ladies for the College for Women. I would suggest to Government whether the Secretary of State might be asked to reconsider his method of recruitment at any rate for professorships. I should suggest advertisement and a small committee of educational men, retired or on leave, an India Office official and a man from the Board of Education. I think the amount of help that may be expected from the latter is over estimated. They have to do with elementary and secondary education and ~~are~~ not particularly in touch with colleges

colleges and the public schools. I am sure an educational man could easily be found who would do the preliminary work on the applications the bother of which is I think the chief thing -- that prevents the Board of Education from advertising.

I may remark that so long as posts are not advertised we have no reason to suppose that in any particular case we have got the best man or woman available. I cannot believe e.g. that no better qualified woman was to ~~be~~ had than Miss Dixon. J.

To return to the immediate question is it not at least possible that there is some Geologist who though incapable for further service at the front might come out?

J.H.S.
5-11-16.

C.No. 794 Ed
u-3-16. D. Devy Ed. 14

DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION.

Delhi, the 28th February 1916. 12

My dear Todhunter,

Will you please refer to my demi-official letter no. 31, dated the 25th January 1916, regarding Mr. Jervis ?

2. Mr. Jervis reports that he studied Geology for three years in the Armstrong College under Professor G.L. Lebour, D.Sc., and passed the final examination in the Second Division, securing first place on the list.

I am,

Yours sincerely,

Tomalay

For Ed.

8

u.3.16

To

The Hon'ble Mr. C.G. Todhunter, I.C.S.

Secretary to the Government of Madras,

Educational Department.

CA.

H.N.S.

The D.I.D. has already been asked separately to furnish the necessary particulars for the recruitment of an officer from England - memo no. 731-1 Edl., dated the 29th February 1916. He is being reminded today. ~~It is therefore~~

2. It is submitted that the ~~file~~ present file relating to the application of Mrs. Jervis may be recorded. A draft order is placed below.

3. With reference to H.E.'s note on page 15 supra, the necessary extracts will be taken and a separate file started.

Sa
18.3.16
18/3/16

[Signature]
20/3/16

S.A.
Please don't lose sight of this 2/3

not put up

191 .

C. No. 4489/15 From the ....., No. ...., dated ..... 191 .....

99 99 ..... 99 99 ..... 99 99 ..... 191

" " ..... ,      " " ..... ,      " .....,      " .....,      191

No. 3085, dated 22-3-1916

music.

Врх. 26

Please when home
after no ship call

84
273

②

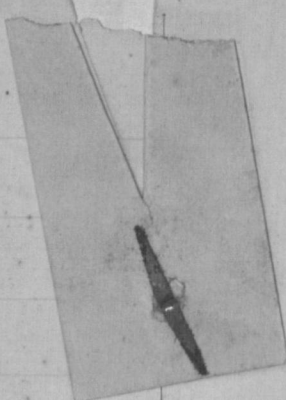

Recorded.

Se
18.3.16 y
18/3/16

20/3/16

Unlabeled 7/1

When given for copying
When copied _____ } 191
When examined _____
When signed _____

READ AGAIN G.O. No. _____ DATED
191 .

CURRENT No.

ENCLOSURES TO C. No.

ORDER OF GOVERNMENT .. .. A A A A A A A

LETTER OF GOVERNMENT.

STATEMENT WITH DITTO.

PAPERS NOT FILED UP, BEING MEANT FOR DESPATCH IN ORIGINAL.

N.B.—

- A = Copy in full.
- B = Not to be copied.
- P = Copy abstract only.
- Q = Copy heading only.