Code of Regulations for European schools

GOVERNMENT OF MADRAS.

EDUCATIONAL DEPARTMENT.

READ—the following paper:—

Letter—from the Hon'ble Mr. J. H. STONE, M.A., C.I.E., F.R.H.S., Director of Public Instruction.

To—the Secretary to Government, Educational Department.

Dated—Madras, the 14th March 1916.

No.—Cur. 2231.

I have the honour to request the sanction of Government for two additions to the Code of Regulations for European schools under the following circumstances:—

(i) At present the code does not recognize any training except that given under it and this may be of the makeshift kind provided for in chapter XI. I consider that teachers trained under rules in chapters IX and X of the Madras Educational Rules are likely to be at least as efficient in whatever class of school they are employed as those trained even under the most favourable circumstances under the Code of Regulations for European schools.

I therefore propose that the following addition may be inserted after 65 (b) of the Code of Regulations for European schools:—

“ 65 (c) Trained teachers' certificates issued by the Director under the Madras Educational Rules shall be considered as equivalent for all purposes with certificates of corresponding grades issued under this code as indicated below:—

‘Trained teachers' certificates of the collegiate grade issued under the Madras Educational Rules equivalent to the high school teachers' certificates issued under this code; trained teachers' certificates of secondary grade issued under the Madras Educational Rules equivalent to the middle school teachers' certificates issued under this code, or, if the holder has passed the intermediate examination or an equivalent examination of a University equivalent to the high school teachers' certificate under this code.

‘Trained teachers' certificate of higher elementary grade issued under the Madras Educational Rules equivalent to the primary school teachers' certificate under this code.’”

Very few male European and Anglo-Indian teachers are trained in Government training schools and colleges and the alteration will affect almost exclusively the teachers trained in the Presidency training school for mistresses; many of whom are now employed and will in future be recruited for European schools.

(ii) Article 65 (a) of the Code of Regulations for European schools provides that, in order to qualify for a teachers' certificate, teachers who have undergone training will be required to teach for two years under the special observation of the Inspector. Cases have occurred in which teachers trained in one province have, after completion of their training, secured employment in another province. In these cases, the Inspector of the province in which they were trained has only had their teaching under observation for a part of the two years required by the regulation. In order to maintain the inter-provincial character of the Code of Regulations for European schools, it seems to me that teachers trained in one province should be free to seek employment in another, and that there should be no obstacle in the way of their being granted a teachers' certificate in whatever province they are employed when they complete their two years' period provided that the Inspector of European schools of such province is satisfied that in one province or the other they have done the two years' satisfactory teaching. I beg therefore to suggest that the following addition may be inserted at the end of article 65 (a):—

“The whole of the two years' period of teaching under observation need not be passed in the same school nor even in the same province.”

Order—336, Educational, dated 28th March 1916.
