103. Will the Government be pleased to state (a) what estimate, if any, they have arrived at, as regards the period of time within which they hope to establish at least one elementary school in each village in the presidency ?

(b) the approximate annual recurring cost on the teaching establishment in the said schools?

Educational Department.

No estimate on the point referred to by the Additional Member has been framed by the Govt. The following draft answer is submitted for approval:-

"The Govt. have framed no estimate in the matter"

2. It may, however, be noted ^{for information} that the number of villages in the Presidency which were unprovided ~~with schools on the 31st March 1915~~ with schools on the 31st March 1915 was 28,181. If a single teacher is employed ^{in each} ~~in each~~ school, the annual recurring cost will amount to about Rs. 160 (in round figures). The cost of opening a school with a single teacher in each of the villages above mentioned will thus roughly ~~approximate~~ amount to Rs. 45,08,960 per annum. More than one teacher may have to be employed in some of the schools and the cost will rise correspondingly. It cannot now be said when sufficient funds will be available for the above purpose. It is not therefore possible to furnish an idea as to the time ~~at~~ within which a school could be established in each village.
