C.No.2416 From the Collector of Madura, Telegram, dated the 4th July 1916.

SUBJECT.

Regarding the sale of dyes ex S.S.Barenfels'.

Please see the notice of auction of the dyestuffs ex S.S.Barenfels' published in the Madras Mail - cutting submitted below. The Collector of Madura apprehends that the unrestricted auction sale to consumers may lead to the latter reselling them to dealers, and suggests

(a) that dyes may be distributed as suggested by him originally, or,

(b) that the sale may be confined to dyers of this Presidency.

As regards his apprehension the Collector may be informed that the Government have considered the case of small dyers and have directed Dr. Marsden to bid at the auction on behalf of small dyers in respect of some selected items which had been considered by him to be needed by those dyers which amount to half of the whole consignment, the intention being to redistribute them later on to the small dyers according to some accepted scheme.

In regard to the fear that buyers will resell the dyes to dealers, definite orders have been issued to limit auction to bona fide consumers of dyes in this Presidency and to exclude carefully speculators. The auction notice also announces that the intending buyers should satisfy the auctioneers previously of their bona fides. It may be presumed that by means of this scrutiny such of those who are likely to buy not for their own use but for resale will be excluded.

With reference to the suggestion (a) of the Collector regarding distribution, this will come in only after the sale for small dyers has been effected. The original proposal to buy wholesale and then distribute, or the subsequent modification of it to buy a portion at least for similar treatment, is impossible under existing orders.

The alternative suggestion to restrict the auction to dyers of this Presidency has also already been adopted. The Government of India's sanction to the scheme of auction is coupled with the condition that it should be limited to weavers and manufacturers of this Presidency who are bona fide consumers of dyes. Messrs Gordon Woodroffe & Co., have been informed informed of this. The advertisement published in the papers does not however make this point clear. It is submitted that the attention of the firm may be drawn to this matter again.

The draft telegrams to the Collector of Madura and Messrs Gordon Woodroffe & Co., submitted below are for approval.
