His Excellency The Right Hon. John
Baron Pentland, of Lyth, P.C., G.C.I.E.,
Governor of Madras, Madras.

Sir,

The Organising Committee of the Industries of the Empire Fair, London, invite your co-operation and support in making the Fair worthy of the British Empire.

The Fair will be held as soon after the termination of the War as will enable Oversea exhibitors and buyers to be present. The new Palace of Industry to be erected for the Fair will be three-and-a-half times the size of Olympia, at present London's largest exhibition building.

Among the results of the great War will be the creation of new economic and industrial conditions, and the Fair will bring together, for the first time, a complete representation of the vast resources, products and manufactures of the Empire. It will attract thousands of merchants and buyers from all parts of the world, eager to review the re-organised trade conditions of the Empire, and will give stimulus and encouragement to all branches of British Industry.

Germany, it is certain, will make extraordinary efforts at her Leipzig Fair, and it is realised that the Empire must see that her Fair shall not suffer by comparison. Indeed, the opportunity of establishing British Empire Trade first and foremost is one that can never again be so favourable.

This is well expressed by the "Weekly Times" in its issue of January 21st, a marked copy of which I am sending you by this mail under separate cover, together with copies of extracts from the "Times" and the "Daily Telegraph", London.

My Committee feel that you will wish to have the Presidency of Madras and its Products worthily represented, and in order to assist you in arriving at a decision as regards the space you require, I send you a marked plan of the Palace of Industry showing the Oversea Sections and the Blocks provisionally reserved for your territory.

As a guide, it may be pointed out that the Egyptian Government have already secured the two Blocks denoted on the Plan. These contain an area of 5,800 square feet.

I feel certain you will agree that the Presidency of Madras could in no other way obtain at the same small cost of 2/6 per square foot so effective and profitable a presentation of its contributions to the trade of the Empire.

My Committee would also like to know if your name may be added to the list of High Commissioners and Governors as a Vice-President.

My Committee hope that you will forward their arrangements by cabling, on receipt of this letter, a reservation of one or both Blocks offered for your territory.

I am, Sir,

Your faithful servant,

William Glass

"DAILY TELEGRAPH," March 31st, 1916.
EMPIRE INDUSTRIES FAIR.

The High Commissioner for Egypt has cabled to London from Cairo booking two large blocks of space at the forthcoming Industries of the Empire Fair, which is to be held in London immediately following the conclusion of the war. This is the first time that Egypt has made a bid for Empire and world trade in this way. The High Commissioner (Lieut.-Colonel Sir Henry McMahon) also cables his acceptance of a vice-presidency.

The Industries of the Empire Fair will be the most serious co-operative effort by British manufacturers and traders to build up and consolidate British Empire trade. One of the features of the exhibition will be a new magnificent permanent Palace of Industry, three and a half times larger than Olympia.

Industries of the Empire Fair

A TRADE EXHIBITION OF BRITISH MANUFACTURES TO BE HELD IN THE

Palace of Industry

WILLESDEN GREEN, LONDON, N.W.

March 6th to March 25th, 1917

THE British Industries Fair held last May under the auspices of the Board of Trade in the Agricultural Hall, was a great success for the few trades represented.

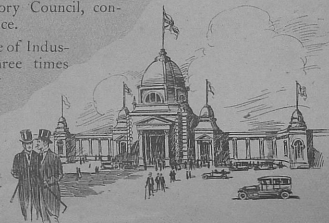

It is problematical, however, whether a similar Fair embracing all industries can be held in 1916, owing to the fact that there is no suitable building in London available for the purpose.

The Industries of the Empire Fair is not intended to be in opposition to the British Industries Fair in 1916, should such be held, but the Palace of Industry is intended for the accommodation of a grand National Fair, embracing every British Industry in the Spring of 1917.

The Industries of the Empire Fair will not be run on the lines of a Private Enterprise.

The general details of the Fair will be arranged by the various Trade Associations whose nominees form the Advisory Council, controlling exhibits and finance.

The area of the Palace of Industry will be more than three times greater than that of any other exhibition building in London, indeed, it will be the largest of its kind in the world. It will be situated at Willesden Green—the most convenient locality outside the City area.

THE MAIN ENTRANCE

¶ The Metropolitan Railway Company's Willesden Green Station adjoins the site, and a service of fast trains is run between Baker Street and Willesden Green, the time being 8 minutes.

Baker Street is in direct connection by means of the Inner Circle Railway and the Bakerloo Tube, with every part of London.

The time occupied in travelling to the Palace from the principal centres will be as follows :—

King's Cross and St. Pancras, 15 minutes; Euston, 12 minutes; Marylebone, 10 minutes; Paddington, 13 minutes; Moorgate Street, 19 minutes; Farringdon Street, 15 minutes; Waterloo, 18 minutes; Charing Cross, 16 minutes; Piccadilly Circus, 14 minutes; Oxford Circus, 15 minutes.

It is intended that a goods siding be constructed connecting the Palace with the whole of the railway system of the country.

¶ The Palace of Industry, by its immense area and central position, will alone make a representative Industries of the Empire Fair possible. As Leipzig Fair was of great benefit to German trade, so this Industries of the Empire Fair, carried out on national lines, will be of enormous benefit to British manufacturers and merchants, and will make London, not only the financial centre, but the market place of the world.

¶ Attached to the Palace will be an Old - World Winter Garden and open - air Tea Gardens of several acres in which visitors, amid peaceful and pleasant surroundings, may break the monotony of viewing exhibits and placing orders.

A FEW YARDS OF THE TWELVE MILES OF STANDS AT THE INDUSTRIES OF THE EMPIRE FAIR

¶ It has been decided that for the first year a charge of 2s. 6d. per square foot be made to Exhibitors for the Three Weeks' Fair. After all expenses have been met, including a sinking fund to partly cover the cost of the building, it is anticipated that about 20 per cent. of the rents will be returned as a bonus to the Exhibitors. The time allowed for the erecting and dismantling of Stands is greatly in excess of that usual at trade exhibitions.

¶ Pending the nomination of a Treasurer by the Advisory Council, a deposit account has been opened in the name of the "Industries of the Empire Fair" with the Capital & Counties' Bank.

¶ As soon as arrangements are completed, a deputation of the Trade Associations will wait on the President of the Board of Trade and invite Government support to the undertaking. It is anticipated that this will be forthcoming, as the Fair is run solely for the benefit of British industries, and not for the profit of individuals.

¶ The Industries of the Empire Fair will be Exclusively a Trade Exhibition.

¶ The distribution of invitation tickets will be arranged with the British Dominion and Allied Governments, Chambers of Commerce and Trade Associations. Exhibitors will receive liberal quantities for distribution.

¶ It is desirable that prospective Exhibitors on receipt of this prospectus will make immediate application for space, indicating the section and position desired. It must be clearly understood that all space will be let at 2/6 per foot and will be allocated in rotation of application.

RULES AND REGULATIONS.

1. Only British manufacturers and their authorised agents are eligible as Exhibitors.

2. Space will be allotted in rotation of application, subject to the Applicant signing the attached application form and conforming to the Rules and Regulations herein stated. The Management reserve the right of refusing any application without assigning any reason.

3. The Fair will be open daily to the Trade from March 6th to 25th. The question of admitting the public during restricted hours will be decided by the Advisory Council after the vote of the exhibitors has been taken.

4. The Fair to be open for the exhibition of British made goods only (see Clause 5). The Exhibitor of any article of foreign manufacture as defined by the Advisory Council, will be fined £5 for every such article exhibited. The article will be forfeited, as will the right of such Exhibitor to occupy a stand. No compensation will be payable to any such Exhibitor. All exhibits must be in the name of the actual Exhibitor, and no article or material may be exhibited as being "the property of" or "supplied by" a firm who is not an Exhibitor, unless such Exhibitor has been the bona-fide authorized Agent of the Manufacturer represented for not less than six months.

5. The term "British made goods" has been defined as follows:-

(a) That in material and labour combined not less than 25% of the value (factory or works cost) must be British.

(b) That the final process or processes of manufacture have been performed in the British Empire.

(c) That no part of the article, either in material or labour, has been provided by Germany, Austria, or Turkey.

6. Exhibitors may commence the erection of their Stands on February 20th, 1917, but no work in connection with the erection or decoration of Stands will be allowed after hour of 10 a.m. on the opening or other days of the Fair. Only Stand Fitters approved by the Management may be engaged by the Exhibitor. A List of Stand Fitters will be supplied on application.

7. Goods may be despatched to arrive on or after February 20th, 1917, addressed to the Goods Manager at the Palace of Industry. All charges for carriage must be repaid. Full details for the exhibiting of Goods will be supplied to the Exhibitor in due course.

8. Space may not be allotted, unless by the written permission of the Management, which permission shall not be unreasonably withheld. The original Exhibitor will however be held responsible for all monies due in respect of the space or for extras.

9. Details of all goods proposed to be exhibited must be inserted on the application form, and no goods apart from these will be admitted for exhibition without the written consent of the Management.

10. Goods sold may not be delivered to the customer at the Fair without the written permission of the Management.

11. Exhibitors must erect a suitable structure upon the site allotted to them for the display of their goods, which structure must, in the opinion of the Management be in general conformity with the other exhibits.

Any additions or alterations necessary may be made by the Management at the Exhibitor's expense. A wooden platform five inches high must be provided by the Exhibitor for each Stand, and the general colour scheme of the Fair must be respected by the Exhibitor.

12. Exhibitors must in all respects comply with the requirements of the Authorities and Management regarding the material used in the erection of their Stands.

All woodwork must not be less than one inch thick, and the material used for decorative purposes must be treated with a fire-proof solution.

13. Structures must be kept strictly to the limits of the site allotted, and must in no way obstruct the light or impede the view along gangways, or obstruct the view of other exhibits. The Management reserve the right to remove any goods obstructing the gangways, the expense of which must be borne by the Exhibitor.

14. Arrangements are made whereby Exhibitors may, at their own expense, obtain a supply of gas, water, electric light or power if required; but all connections to the mains must be made by the Management, the cost of which must be borne by the Exhibitor.

15. Petrol, carbide, burning oil or other highly inflammable goods will not be admitted to the Fair. Any such article found in the building will be confiscated instantly and the Exhibitor held responsible for any damage caused.

16. No advertisements, fixings or attachments may be made to the structure of the building without the written authority of the Management, and any damage done to the fabric of the building by the Exhibitor must be repaired to the satisfaction of the Management by the Exhibitor forthwith.

17. The Management will not hold themselves responsible for any third party claims. This must be borne by the Exhibitor who causes such damage.

18. All Exhibits must be constantly on view during the hours of the Fair, and the Management reserve the right to uncover any stand at the Exhibitor's expense and risk during Exhibition hours.

19. No Exhibits must be dismantled until the close of the Fair, and no goods will be allowed to be removed from the building without an official pass, which may be obtained from the Management.

20. All goods and structures must be removed from the building by April 1st, 1917, and in the event of their remaining after 12 o'clock midnight on that day, the Management reserve the right to remove and store them at the expense of the Exhibitor.

21. In the event of any monies being due by the Exhibitor, the Management may exercise a lien upon the goods of the Exhibitor for any amount which may be due, without prejudice to any other proceedings they may take for the recovery of same.

22. All Exhibits are exhibited at the Owner's entire risk, and the Management will accept no responsibility for loss or damage caused through any cause whatsoever.

23. The Management reserve the right of ejecting or refusing admittance to any Exhibitor, Representative, or Agent whose conduct in or has been objectionable whilst in the Exhibition building or grounds, without redress to the Exhibitor.

24. The Management reserve the right of refusing the exhibit of, or insisting upon the removal of any article which causes a nuisance to other Exhibitors.

25. No catalogues or other advertising matter may be distributed except from the Exhibitor's own stand, and no canvassing, hawking or soliciting of visitors will be allowed.

No photographs may be taken of any exhibit, unless by the official photographers to the Fair. No camera, other than exhibits, will be admitted to the building.

26. Exhibitors or their representatives will not be admitted to the Fair without a pass; such passes will be supplied in reasonable numbers, free of charge, by the Management. Passes must not be sold or traded.

27. In the event of the building not being erected, completed or available for the purpose of the Fair, owing to fire, Government requisition, strikes or any other cause whatsoever, the Management are not to be liable for damage, directly or indirectly, caused thereby, but reserve to themselves the right to hold the Fair on the first convenient date.

Any contract between the Exhibitor and the Management shall be in no way invalidated by reason of such postponement. The Management may return such monies that have been paid them by Exhibitors less a percentage to cover expenses incurred which have been sanctioned by the Advisory Council, in which case any agreement entered into will be null and void, and no claim for damages or otherwise can be made by the Exhibitor.

28. The Management reserve to themselves the right to alter the plan of the Stands should necessity arise, in which case a similar Stand to the one already allotted will be placed at the disposal of the Exhibitor. The Management will not recognise any claim for damage caused owing to such alteration.

29. The Exhibitor also agrees to abide by any reasonable regulation which may be made by the Advisory Council, either before or during the Fair.

30. In these Rules and Regulations the term "Exhibitor" includes all his Employees, Agents, Contractors or Workpeople and the term "Fair" shall be deemed to mean the Industries of the Empire Fair.

The above Rules and Regulations are compiled with the authority of—

The Advisory Council.
