The Government of India have recently been considering the question of the amelioration of the conditions of service of school inspectresses and members of the teaching staffs of institutions for the education of girls. The following are among the various recommendations on the subject which they have received, and which require your sanction :—

(2) The existing privilege of maternity leave, which under article 288-A of the Civil Service Regulations is at present admissible only to school mistresses, should be extended to all married female educational officers in the service of Government, and where an officer is unfit to return to duty at the expiry of the maximum period she should be allowed to take leave on medical certificate in extension of the maternity leave.

2. These proposals speak for themselves and we commend them to your favourable consideration. We would, however, invite your attention to the correspondence ending with your Public despatch No. 99, dated the 2nd June 1911, in which the existing concession of maternity leave
