Subject:- Extension of the period of deputation of an officer of the Indian Civil Service in the Department of Industries.

In G.O., No. 40 Educational, dated the 8th April 1916, the Government sanctioned the deputation of an officer of the Indian Civil Service for a period of six months for reorganising the Department of Industries and for examining the position of the various experiments carried on by the department.
Subsequently in G.O., No. 1142 Home (Education), dated the 31st October 1916, the period was extended by six months or till the receipt of the Secretary of State's orders on the proposals to create a new post of Director of Industries & Fisheries if communicated earlier. This extended period of deputation expired on the 22nd May 1917.

2. The Government of India have intimated that they would prefer to postpone the final decision of the question of combining the office of the Director of Industries with that of the Director of Fisheries until after the receipt of the recommendations of the Indian Industrial Commission and that, if before the receipt of the Commission's report the necessity should arise of making a change in the incumbency of the present appointments, they would have no objection to a member of the Indian Civil Service ^{being} placed in charge of the two departments as a temporary measure pending the final decision of the question. The Revenue department at first proposed to place Mr. Innes in charge of the two departments as a temporary measure, but this proposal has for the present been held in abeyance (Vide D.O. No. 1818-A-9, dated the 29th June 1917).

3. Mr. Innes' present emoluments including the deputation allowance of Rs300 per mensem sanctioned in G.O., No.1684 Public, dated the 11th October 1916, amount to Rs2,250 per mensem and this Government can extend the period of his deputation by another year i.e. up to the 22nd May 1918. It appears desirable to continue the existing arrangement in the interest of the department. A draft order is submitted. If approved, it may be sent to the Revenue & Financial departments for acceptance.
