Department.

Sir,

The Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, having stated that copies of the Grant-in-Aid Code which are required partly for sale and partly for supply to the offices and institutions mentioned in the distribution list approved in G. O. No. 163 Educational, Mis., dated 9th February 1914, have run out of stock, I have the honour to request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government for the reprint of the Code referred to as he considers that such sanction is necessary.

2. I beg to mention in this connection that the Superintendent bases his suggestion on paragraph 3 of G. O. No. 1199 re P. M. p-2 (X)

Public dated 25th November 1902, but in view of the fact that in November 1915 he brought out in consultation with me a reprinted edition of the Code in question I am not sure that the sanction of Government is really necessary on this occasion.

Sir,

EDUCATION

Sir,

The Superintendent, Government Press, Madras, reports that copies of the Madras Educational Rules are out of stock and that there are steady demands for them. I have therefore the honour to request that you will be so good as to obtain the sanction of Government, as the Superintendent considers that such sanction is necessary, for reprinting 500 copies of the Rules. As the rules in question are under revision, 500 copies of the reprint will probably suffice to meet the demands before the revised edition is sanctioned by Government and issued.

2. In this connection I have the invite your attention to paragraph 2 of my letter R. C. No. 6830/14 dated 11th December 1916 and to state that a reprinted edition of the Madras Educational Rules also was brought out by the Superintendent in consultation with me in September 1915.

NOTES.

Home (Education) Department

Subject.— Reprinting of the Grant-in-Aid Code and the Madras Educational Rules.

(C.No. 4596) From the Director of Public Instruction, R.C.No.6830, dated the 11th December 1916.

(C.No. 4721) From the Director of Public Instruction, R.C.No.10311, dated the 18th December 1916.

(X) In G.O.No.1199, Public, dated the 25th November 1902, heads of departments have been authorized to indent on the Superintendent, Government Press, for printing work; but under para 3 of the G.O. work of unusual character received from any source should not be carried out without the authority of Government. When the Superintendent is in doubt in any case, he should ask the head of the department to apply to Government for sanction.

In the present case the reprinting of the Grant-in-Aid Code and the Madras Educational Rules, copies of which have run out of stock, cannot be considered to be work of unusual character. It may perhaps be stated that the Superintendent, Government Press, feels some doubt and therefore considers the sanction of Government necessary. But in view of the fact that he had no doubt when he brought out a reprinted edition in November 1915, it does not appear that the sanction of the Government is really necessary for reprinting the publications now. Further, the Director may surely be ^{trusted} ~~relied upon~~ in such cases. If this view is accepted, the draft order below stating that the sanction of Government is not necessary for the reprinting of the publications is submitted for approval.

Submitted that it seems desirable to have a definite ruling in the matter of reprinting publications. For orders whether these notes may be sent up to the S.G. P for re-issuance in the first instance.

2. As regards the present case reference is elicited to para 8 (c) of S.G. P's note of 24.8.09 suggesting that orders for reprint of works may be sent during the slack months from April to Sept.

Please put up a copy of the notes dealing with the Printing Manual as well as a copy of the Manual itself.

With reference to paragraph 2 on page 1 of these notes, I have been compelled to raise this question because more than a mere reprint of the Grant-in-Aid Code for sale is required.

(1) In other cases, e.g., (Police Order Books Vols. I-IV, G.O.No.1934, Judicial, dated 17th August 1915) orders of Government have been issued for reprint editions of departmental publications sanctioned before.

(2) The Director also wanted the press to distribute copies to all offices as per distribution list in G.O.No.163, Educational, Mis. dated 9th February 1914 and it appears that when Government sanctions a list it is usual for, Government also to authorise additions to that list. Under the instructions in paragraph 1 of that Government order copies of these publications are to be distributed by the Director though by a mistake at Mount Road Branch it was done by the Press on one occasion. It has hitherto been a clearly recognised principle that the press distributes only publications issued on behalf of or sanctioned by the Secretariat and in another connection I have recently had to point out to Government that the press cannot undertake any more distribution work without additional staff.

2. The reprint of the Educational Rules in 1915 was for sale only and I could presumably in accordance with general practice of keeping stocks of publications for which there is a demand, make such a reprint without sanction, but before doing so the Director was asked if he could supply 200 copies for sale, or if it could be reprinted, in case he might be submitting a new edition to Government in a short time, and he replied that copies sufficient for 2 years might be printed embodying correction slips. Some two months later, after type was distributed, he requested me to distribute copies to all offices in a revised general distribution list. It was pointed out that this could not be done but as a special case copies were sent to some additional offices with the result that the copies for sale are exhausted.

3. As the Director states that the Rules are under revision, and it is necessary at this juncture to economise in Stationery and Printing, it is, I submit, preferable to expedite the issue of a new edition and let the public wait for copies rather than to adopt the unusual course of issuing a reprint of a small number of copies now which must be sold at a loss per copy.

4. As to the general question of orders for reprints, a rule in the Printing Manual is very desirable for it is possible with departmental publications that frequent reprints may be wanted at short intervals as in this case which will be expensive, and it seems to be desirable to apply the ordinary rules to reprints and revised editions also as is generally our practice. As to reprinting of Acts, this is provided for by G.O. No. 44, Financial (Books), dated 3rd July 1903 (paragraph 200 of the Printing Manual).

Submitted that the remarks of Home (Educational) may be invited on the point in para 1(2) of S.G.P.'s note.

2. Home (Educational) may be consulted whether it is now necessary to reprint the Madras Educational Rules (vide para 3 of S.G.P.'s note).

3. Portions of notes relating to the general rule as regards the reprint of publications have been extracted for separate consideration.

4. My personal opinion is that sanction to all reprints should be accorded by Government. At this all this is not a mea-on page 4 ante, that it is preferable to expedite the issue of a new edition and let the public ~~have~~ wait for copies rather than to adopt the unusual course of issuing a reprint of a small number of copies which will have to be sold at a loss, it may be noted that the revision of the Educational Rules and the Grant-in-aid Code which is now under separate consideration will probably take a long time and it may not be desirable to ~~make~~ the public wait for copies till then. The S. G. P. himself admits that there are steady demands for the Educational Rules (p 3 c f) at present and the public will be put to much inconvenience if they are made to wait until the publication of the revised edition. It is therefore submitted that these books may be reprinted.

2 This Department may agree to ~~the~~ the suggestion of the Public Dept (page 6 ante) that reprints should receive the sanction of Govt.

3 The D. P. D. states that 500 copies of the reprint of the Madras Educational Rules will suffice, but he has not ~~mentioned~~ specified the number of copies of the grant-in-aid Code required.

The same number of copies of the Code will probably suffice to meet the demand.
4. A revised draft order is sent for approval.
