EDUCATION.

(a) This Conference is of opinion that primary education is the first need of the country, that the effects hitherto made to diffuse education among the masses have been very inadequate and that Government do give very favourable consideration and liberal support to any scheme that may be suggested for imparting free primary education to the people, it being made compulsory wherever possible; this Conference is further of opinion that the time has come for making primary education free and compulsory in all Municipal areas, not less than two thirds of the cost being met by the Government.
