The Honourable Mr. K.K.R. Kavalappara Muppil Nayar:-

Home (Education) Department.

Q. 45. In view of the great importance of speedy success in Special Test examinations for promotion to low paid public servants [and the difficulty to get through in the first instance for want of necessary time for preparation and rare opportunities of getting - leave,] will the Government be pleased to order these examinations to be held twice a year, say in April and October like B.L. Examination?

Submitted with reference to the subsequent intimation from Legation - vide No. 296/17.

Last year two questions were asked at the Legislative Council meetings asking the Govt: to consider the desirability of holding the Special test examinations twice a year. Of these the first question had reference to the Special tests in general and the subsequent one referred to the Previous-writing test in particular. Vide papers recorded in G.O. No. 134 Ed. II, d/ the 10th Feb. 1916, and No. 1328 Home-Ed. II, d/ the 9th Dec. 1916. On both these occasions the Govt. replied that they had considered the suggestion but did not think its adoption desirable. Submitted that the present question may also be similarly answered. The following draft answer is for approval.

Answer.

"The Govt. have ~~considered~~ considered the suggestion ~~but~~ (and) do not think its adoption desirable."
