Office of the Superintending Engineer,
VII Circle,

No. _____ Chepauk, Madras, October 1916.

Letter No. 1530-S.E., dated 13th October 1916, from M.R.Ry., G.S. Rama Ayyar Avl., B.A., B.C.E., Executive Engineer, South Arcot Division, to the Superintending Engineer, VII
Circle, Madras.

I have the honour to bring to your notice that T. S.
Ramasami Chettiar, Upper Subordinate Student, posted to this Division in your No. 850-S.A., dated 8th September 1916, for undergoing without stipend the extended course of practical training for 2 months, has submitted a Travelling Allowance Bill for September 1916 including claims for his journey from his native place to this division for joining duty and those for journeys within the division on duty.

2. From a perusal of the rules relating to the constitution and working of the College of Engineering, Madras, as amended by G.O. No. 417-Edl., dated 11th April 1914, it is not clear whether or not the Travelling Allowance claims in this particular case may be admitted. I therefore request your orders on the subject.

Copy submitted to the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, for favour of orders.

2. Under rule 59 of the rules relating to the working of the College of Engineering, travelling allowance at rates sanctioned for officers of the third class in the Civil -- Service Regulations is admissible to students joining or on the works. It is not clear whether this concession can be extended to students for the period of their extended practical course without stipend.

Sir,

Ref: G.P. and c

With reference to your Endorsement No: 3865-1 dated 3rd November 1916, I have the honour to state that, in view of the unfavourable remarks made by the Executive Engineer, West Coast Division on the progress of T.S. Ramaswami Chettiar, Upper Subordinate student during his practical course, the Principal, College of Engineering, Madras, at the instance of the Chief Engineer, Public Works Department, recommended that the practical course of the student might be extended by 2 months without stipends and this was accordingly sanctioned by me. The Principal is of opinion that, in as much as the practical course of the student was extended on account of his neglect of his work and to enable him to qualify for the College diploma in his own interest and not for the public convenience and as he was not given any subsistence allowance during the period of his journey it is not desirable that he should be given any travelling allowance. In this view I concur.

I have the honour to be,

The Ex. Expt & the S.E. raise two questions, viz, Whether T.A. may be admitted to ^a student whose practical course has been extended without stipend

- (1) for his journey from his native place to the division to which he is posted for duty and
- (2) for journeys performed within the division on duty.

The D.D.'s letter appears to answer the 1st question only, because he refers to the fact that the student "was not given any subsistence allowance during the period of his journey". Ordinarily in the case of journeys on transfer T.A. is admissible to an officer only if he is entitled to pay or salary during the time occupied in such journey - vide art 1094 C.S.R. This rule is however inapplicable in this case which seems to be governed by art. 1138 A.C.S.R. as revised by Addendum No. 87 of 3.2.16. Under this article, the local Govt. can for travelling or halting allowances for journeys during the course of train without reference to the fact that

He student draws any stipend or not.
2. The question for consideration is whether the student should not be allowed t.a. even for journeys performed within the division on duty. It is submitted that it appears to be a hardship if t.a. were disallowed in such cases. These journeys ~~are~~ cannot be said to be made entirely in his own interests, because though his employment on works gives him valuable experience the public interests ^{are} also benefited by his employment on those works. The ^{Home} Educational Dept. may be requested to consider this point and to issue general orders covering all such cases in future.

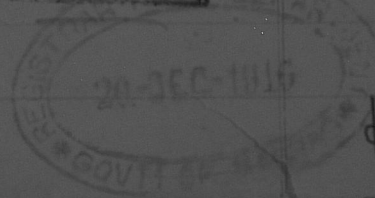

Kly
18.12.16 I think the student should certainly get his T.A. both when joining the division & also for journeys performed on duty. If he is paid no T.A. while on duty it is obvious he will do the minimum amount of inspection.

I place below a note on the subject of Mr. James. It largely turns on the real nature of students undergoing the practical course. He insists as he did in the discussion with myself about their students taking the practical course in the hope that students undergoing a practical course are in no sense officers and I agree with him that his view is particularly applicable to students who are undergoing a supplementary course owing to their own default. Allowing them to do this is certainly a concession. At the same time refusing them I.A. might defeat the very object for which the concession is given, as the provision of funds for travelling might be a serious strain on their finances. His (I think is the P.D.P.) view, although they support it by an argument that I agree Mr. James is not accepting.

Note from Mr. W.H. James, Principal, College of Engineering, Madras, dated 10th January 1917.

There is an underlying suggestion in the P.W.D. remarks that a student has a sort of claim for T.A. in return for services rendered, but it cannot be too strongly emphasized that a student is not in the Department to serve any direct public purpose but to be afforded every opportunity and assistance in gaining knowledge.

2. For the twelve months' course he is shown every consideration by being allowed subsistence allowance and T. A. for journeys performed. If he neglects to make proper use of his opportunities I do not think Government should be put to any further expense whatever on his behalf. Only very ordinary application is demanded of a student under training and the extension of his course for unsatisfactory progress is in the nature of a penalty and in no way comparable to his being given another chance after failing in an examination. A student at this stage is practically on the threshold of his career and for his sake everything possible should be done to counteract any tendency towards slackness.

3. It does not appear that Art. 1138 A. can possibly apply to students undergoing practical training. It refers specifically to Government Officers who are in an altogether different position.

Home (Education) Department.

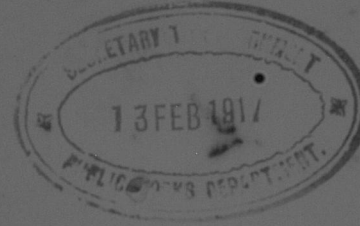

The D.P.I. on a reconsideration of the question is willing to allow the grant of travelling allowances to students whose practical course is extended on account of unsatisfactory progress.

2. Rule 69 of the rules relating to the constitution and working of the College of Engineering provides for an extension of the practical course in the case of students granted leave for more than a month but there is no specific rule providing for such extension in the case of students whose progress during the practical course is unsatisfactory. It is understood that such extensions without stipends are sanctioned by the D.P.I. under rule 85 of the College Rules.

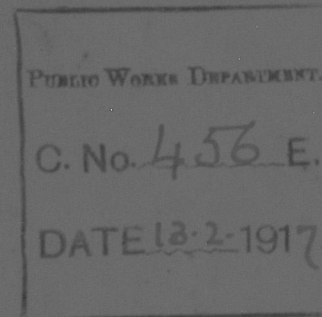

3. Rules 54 and 59 relate to the grant of subsistence and travelling allowances. They provide ~~that~~ the grant of subsistence ^{allowance} should be contingent on the good conduct and satisfactory progress of the student; and on proof of misconduct or idleness, the allowance may be withdrawn by the Principal on the recommendation of the Executive Engineer or the Officer in charge of workshops. Travelling allowances to students joining or on the works shall be drawn at the rates sanctioned for officers of the ~~any~~ ^{third} class under the C.S.Rs."

It appears to be the intention of the rule to allow the payment of travelling allowances actually incurred by the students irrespective of the question whether their progress is satisfactory or not. It is submitted that the views of the P.W.D. at page 3 ante which are now supported by the D.P.I. may be accepted. A draft order is submitted. If approved it may be sent u.o. to P.W.D. and Financial Departments for acceptance.
