retention of these posts until the 30th April 1918.

2. The Inspectress of Girls' Schools, Central Circle, reports that although the strength and average attendance of these four schools have not shown any perceptible improvement owing to local unfavourable conditions such as the prevalence of small-pox, fever, etc their tone has been considerably raised and much better discipline maintained by the non-Muhammadan Headmistresses than by Muhammadan Mistresses of low qualifications and she hopes that after another year's trial there will be considerable improvement in all directions.

3. Provision for the charge has been included in the Budget Estimates for 1917-1918.
