Miss Maud Isabel Ebbutt				To be temporary additional Professor Madras college for women	2 nd July '17 (Monday)				The post of temporary additional Professor on Rs 400 sanctioned for the Madras College for women in G.O. No. 181 ECL dated 18 th February '16 is at present held by Miss L. Philips who is allowed a salary of Rs 200 only which is a moiety of the pay of the post, the arrangement being strictly temporary pending the recruitment of an English lady from home. As the Secretary of State has now informed the local Government that no suitable candidate for appointment as Lady Professor for the College is forthcoming and that consequently recruitment may be made locally, it is proposed that Miss Maud Isabel Ebbutt who is at present employed in the Diocesan College, Calcutta and who will be free from work from the end of April and is willing to accept the post in the Women's College on Rs 400, be appointed as temporary additional Professor. She is 49 years old but it is stated that she looks young for the age and is still vigorous. A statement of her qualifications and copies of her testimonials are herewith enclosed for perusal. It may be observed from my Recommendation Roll CL No. 26 dated 6 th July 16 and my Confidential

As Miss Ebbutt will be free from the end of April it would be well to sanction her appointment at once with effect from 2nd July next and give her timely intimation of her employment in this Presidency so as to prevent her looking out for a job elsewhere.

Miss Delaney is anxious to secure her services for the College.

St. David's College,
Lampeter,
December 31st, 1912.

I have the greatest confidence in recommending Miss M.I. Ebbutt as a lady admirably fitted for the post for which she is applying.

Miss Ebbutt was Head Mistress of the Lampeter High School for Girls from 1902 to 1905. As Chairman of the Committee of Management of the School, I was in close touch with her work, and my own three girls were then under her care. Ever since that time I have remained on terms of friendship with her, and have taken a keen interest in her work at Barnt Green. I feel therefore that I speak with full knowledge of her character and abilities. Nothing that I could say on behalf of Miss Ebbutt could be stronger than what I feel; but as it might easily give the impression of extravagance, I will content myself with simply stating the fact that I know no lady whom I could recommend as unreservedly as I can recommend her.

At Lampeter Miss Ebbutt showed the greatest tact and skill not only in the management of the School and of the Boarding House, but also in her treatment of the parents and of other persons interested in the School. She did everything that judgment and commonsense could do to overcome difficulties; and I am confident that she would show the same qualities in wider sphere as I know she has shown them at Barnt Green.

She is a woman of great gifts and great acquirements, full of energy, unsparing in her devotion to duty, sympathetic with her pupils, methodical, business-like and resourceful. Her personal influence over the girls under her charge is most excellent, and she has in a high degree that personal magnetism which is the surest source of power over the young.

Even in the bustle of School work Miss Ebbutt has kept up her post-graduate studies with a success attested by her winning Sir Thomas Lipton's prize of £50 for an essay on "Ancient Irish Customs and Institutions"; and more recently, by her scholarly and excellent "Hero Myths & Legends of the British Race"--a book which would have done honour to a person of ample leisure, and her "En Vacances", a French reading-book for Junior Forms. She has also contributed numerous articles to "The Academy". There could I think, be no better guarantee of that freshness of mind which is essential to the teacher, and above all to the head of a great educational institution. Miss Ebbutt impresses with that freshness of mind all who have the privilege of meeting her in Society. She is invariably bright, ready minded, well-informed and wide in her interests. No one in Lampeter was more universally respected. No one in recent years has made a deeper mark on the place. Her departure was a great loss to us; her coming would be a gain to the community fortunate enough to secure her services.

From Rev. CANNON MOSSE, The Lickey Vicarage, Bromsgrove.

Miss Ebbutt has been personally well known to me all the time that she has been Head Mistress of Tanglewood School in my Parish. Five of our children have been under her care during this time, and we have every reason to be very grateful to her for the excellent teaching they have received especially as they have grown older, and been more entirely under her hands.

I have myself given a Divinity lesson at the School regularly every week, which has brought me further into contact with Miss Ebbutt and her work.

Miss Ebbutt is a Churchwoman and regular Communicant. Some of the girls in the school have been prepared by me for Confirmation and both they and the Teaching Staff have been regular in attendance at Church and Holy Communion.

I consider that Miss Ebbutt's literary and teaching ability is very high, and her character is sans reproche.

She is fond of girls and sympathetic; and is a good disciplinarian and hard worker.

Barnet Green,
N. Birmingham,
Dec. 31st, 1912.

I have much pleasure in recommending Miss M. I. Ebbutt for the post which she wishes to obtain.

I have known Miss Ebbutt intimately and well for the last five years, since she became Headmistress of Tanglewood School, and I have formed a very high opinion of her personal character and of her capability as a teacher.

She is a very good disciplinarian and she exerts an excellent moral influence over her pupils, and at the same time she gains their love and affection.

She is a capable organizer, gets on well with her staff and by her bright example infuses life and energy into all.

Miss Ebbutt has a cultured mind, and is full of enthusiasm which enables her to get through a great amount of work and yet find time to write books on various educational subjects.

Three of my daughters are being educated by Miss Ebbutt and I am more than satisfied with the way she has taught them and with the progress they have made. They thoroughly enjoy the lessons they have with her, as she makes everything so interesting and they are personally very fond of her. This feeling I know is shared by many other pupils and their parents.

I shall regret Miss Ebbutt leaving Tanglewood School, but I feel that her great abilities deserve a larger and more important field for work.

If the Governors appoint Miss Ebbutt as Headmistress, I believe she will justify the confidence reposed in her and that the school will prosper under her management.

I am pleased to be able to say that Miss Ebbutt enjoys excellent health and never requires my professional services.

C O P Y .

It gives me very great pleasure to write in support of Miss Ebbutt's application for the post of Headmistress of the Royal School at Twickenham. I have had ample opportunities of forming an opinion of her management and teaching during the time she has been at Lampeter, particularly during the year (1902-3) that she taught two of my daughters.

In the first place she has been most unparing of herself in her desire to promote the advancement and welfare of the school, working early and late on its behalf, and always alive to any possible openings or developments.

As a teacher, on account of her variety of interest and knowledge, she is most stimulating, and imparts her own keenness to her pupils, and she has had experience in training for a wide range of examinations, from the lowest to the highest women's examination, and in her subjects up to a very high standard.

I may add that with all her teaching, she has not lost her zest as a student herself.

Her relations with her staff I am sure cannot fail to be pleasant, while at the same time she would never forget her responsibility to the Committee for seeing that all departments were working as they ought to be and with the minimum of friction.

Her personal interest in everything that concerns her pupils in their games as well as in their work, and her bright and sympathetic manner, make her deservedly a favourite with them and give her an excellent influence over them.

I believe that Miss Ebbutt will prove herself, if appointed a thoroughly zealous and tactful Headmistress, and I shall be glad to see her occupying a place where she will have more scope for making her powers felt.

I feel sure that if she is appointed the Committee will have no reason to regret their choice.

I have recommended Miss Ebbutt without any reserve, and I shall be glad to answer any questions about her.

For Registrar.-

Attention is solicited to the instructions issued by the Govt. of India in paras 2 and 3 of their letter No. 583, dated the 13th June 1916 (pp. 2-3 of G.O. No. 902, dated the 23rd August 1916). India desire that when a vacancy occurs in the Indian Edl. Service, the local Govt. should review the comparative qualifications of all suitable candidates. The latest list of candidates is found in G.O. No. 387, dated the 20th March 1917 and Miss Ebbutt's name is not on this list. Perhaps the D.P.I. thinks that neither of the two candidates on the list is suitable for the present post in the Madras College for Women and his recommendation may therefore be accepted.

2. The Director has not specified the period for which Miss Ebbutt should be appointed. The local Govt. can make the appointment for a period of six months under the powers delegated to them in India's letter No. 1742, dated the 10th September 1913 in G.O. No. 882, dated the 23rd September 1913. The appointment should however be reported to the Govt. of India with reference to the instructions in para 2 of their letter No. 583, dated the 13th June 1916 (p. 2 of G.O. No. 902, dated the 23rd August 1916). It is submitted that the sanction of the Govt. of India may be obtained for the appointment of Miss Ebbutt for a period of one year at the outset as it is likely that her services will be required for more than a period of six months since it is unlikely that the Secretary of State will be able to recruit a suitable lady within the latter period.

3. A draft order and a draft letter to the Govt.

Govt. of India are submitted for approval.

SM

The appointment of Miss Ebbutt is to be proposed to India in place of Miss Phillipz. The D.P.I. apparently intends to employ the former for the full balance of the period of two years for which the appointment of add. professor has been sanctioned. There should be some definite information on this point. We may have to intimate to the Secy of State of what we have done in the matter, and probably the D.P.I. himself may have given some undertaking to Miss Ebbutt. The D.P.I. may be asked to note further on this point.

As regards Miss Phillipz we will have to tell India definitely how long we propose to keep her on. Miss Ebbutt is to take charge of her new appointment on the reopening of the College after summer vacation, there is obviously no need to keep on Miss Phillipz ^{as addl. prof.} during the vacation & pay her ^{higher} salary while the College remains closed. Ordinarily her services as professor may be terminated with the closing of the College & she may be reverted to her post as Assistant in the Govt. Secondary School, Triplicane. The D.P. may be asked to note on this point also.

Ch

has used to consult D.P. again. The case is perfectly clear, & ready for action.

The app^t is only a temporary one lasting 2 years & when Mrs. Coburn joins she will have a year or little more to run in it; there is therefore no question of security, anybody else before the sanctioned term of the appointment expires.

Miss Phillips' appointment should cease at the end of the working term. A.D. 1917 will be obtained.

The Drafts (slightly modified by me) should be checked; expressions like "appointment... temporary" sh^d be avoided; adverbs cannot modify nouns.

I sh^d like to know the reason for the inclusion of the last sentence of Draft; I see no reason.
