TO

SIR,

I have the honour to report that Mr. C. Kunhiraman, Assistant Professor of this College, applied for a week's leave on the 29th January as he was laid up with severe fever. On the 31st January the Health Officer, Corporation of Madras, reported that he was suffering from modified Small-pox and that he should be kept off duty till his house was declared free from infection. The Health Officer has now written under date 15th February 1917 that Mr. Kunhiraman has recovered from the attack and is free from infection and may be allowed allowed to join duty at once. In accordance with the letter Mr. Kunkhiraman joined duty yesterday the 15th instant before noon.

2. I request therefore that he may be granted such leave for 17 days as he may be entitled to, from the 29th January to the 14th February both days inclusive.

3. Mr. Kunkhiraman drew full salary for the month of January 1917.

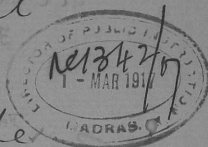

I have the honor to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant

Sir,

I beg to submit that on the 29th ultimo

I got an attack of chicken pox as a result of which I had to take leave up to the 14th instant. I rejoined duty on the 15th instant after being absent for thirteen working days.

2. During the current academic year I have not availed myself of leave of any kind on any other occasion than that mentioned mentioned above.

3. During my absence from duty no substitute was appointed in my stead and no other member of the staff was dealing with the subject of which I am in charge.

4. I am lecturing on the Indian Penal Code and being solely in charge of the subject I have got to deal with it completely before the end of this College term, giving additional lectures if necessary, to make up for the lectures that I have missed during my absence.

5. I understand that as I am not a full time Government servant, unless my leave is treated as casual leave, I will have to suffer total forfeiture of pay, and this I submit, will inflict a distinct hardship on me, as I cannot be said to be responsible in any way for my absence.

6. In these special circumstances, I beg that the Government may be pleased to sanction as a special case that the leave I was compelled to take be regarded as casual leave, to grant which there is an absolute discretion vested in the Government, considering the fact that I have fifteen days' casual leave to my credit and that I was absent only for thirteen working days.

I beg to remain,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

Chunhi Ramani

SIR,

In continuation of my letter Re No. 40/17, dated 16th February 1917. I have the honour to enclose an application from the Assistant Professor of Tamil Ramani and to state that his college work will not necessarily suffer by his absence during his illness as he can make up for the lectures he missed by additional lectures if needed.

I recommend therefore that his application for casual leave may be favourably considered.

I have the honour to be
Sir
Your most obedient servant

From the Accountant-General, Madras, No. G.A. 59-21264 dated 28th February 1917.

In returning herewith a letter from the Principal, Law College, forwarded with your endorsement No. 1342/17 dated the 19th February 1917, I have the honour to state that, as M.R. Ry C. Kunhiraman Avergal is not a whole time officer of Government, he is not eligible for any leave under the Civil Service Regulations. He may be granted leave of absence from duty for the period from 29th January to 14th February 1917. Casual -- leave is not recognised leave under the Civil Service Regulations but its grant is regulated by departmental rules. I would point out however that Mr. Kunhiraman cannot be granted special casual leave under rule (1) in the Madras Supplement 332 Civil Service Regulations, to cover the period of his --- absence from the 29th January to 14th February as he himself was suffering from the infectious disease. If it is decided to treat the period 29th January to 14th February 1917 as absence from duty, Mr. Kunhiraman cannot be permitted to draw any allowances for that period.

C.No.1157. From the Director of Public Instruction, Madras, Ref. on Cur.No.1342 of 1917, dated the 7th March 1917.

Subject.

Re. grant of leave to M.R.Ry. C. Kunhiraman
Avargal, Assistant Professor, Law College, Madras.

page 8. C.F.

Cp rule 11 on p. 3 of G.O. No. 310
22-2-16. (Y)

As pointed out by the Accountant-General M.R.Ry. C. Kunhiraman is not eligible for any leave under the Civil Service Regulations as he is not a whole-time officer of Government. The same view was held in the case of M.R.Ry. T. Rajagopala Achariyar, another Assistant Professor of the Law College, and he was granted leave without allowances for two months in 1915 - vide G.O. Nos.944 Edl., dated the 28th August 1915, and 41 Edl., dated the 11th January 1916.

2. Casual leave is regulated by departmental rules and though under existing orders the Assistant Professor's request to be granted special casual leave from the 29th January to the 14th February 1917 is inadmissible, it is open to the Government to relax the rules and grant him casual leave, as a special case, if any distinction is to be made between his case and that of Mr. Rajagopala Achariyar due to the shortness of the leave, namely 17 days.

3. Subject to orders on paragraph 2 above, a draft order sanctioning leave without allowances for 17 days is submitted for approval.

In both cases illness was the cause of absence. The D.O.
has not apparently recommended any relaxation of the rule

1.9.17

And it may perhaps be better to treat the present case similarly as the previous one.
