Home (Education) Department.

Q.101. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Government have any scheme for the expansion of secondary education?

(b) will the Government be pleased to publish the proposals if any before finally approving of them?

2. As regards clause (b) of the question it may be noted that the scheme is being prepared by the D.I. in consultation with local bodies and presumably also the local educational officers. There seems therefore to be no useful purpose in publishing the proposals before approval. Moreover this procedure may entail delay in giving effect to the scheme as the Govt. will have to consider the various proposals made by interested people.

Q.101. (a) Will the Government be pleased to state whether the Government have any scheme for the expansion of secondary education?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to publish the proposals if any before finally approving of them?

3. The file may be sent to the D.P.I. for remarks. The following draft answer is submitted for approval. -

(a) yes
(b) The Govt. will consider the suggestion.

Clause (a) is ambiguous. Does the expansion refer to quantity - i.e. an increase in the number of schools; or expanding the course of studies e.g. making the secondary course vocational, of which there is such a lot in the newspapers at present. Presumably the former.

I presume that the hon. member is aware that it is intended to subsidise local bodies to open new secondary schools and that this is the scheme he refers to. I see no advantage in making public the name of the place where is

- propose to open these schools. (Mansapha me selects those will no more that will be jealous and publishing the names would merely incite petitions and arouse controversy. I am, of course carefully considering the choice of places and shall like to accept the advice of the local authorities who of course consult the inspecting officers. It is another attempt to turn the Council into a parliament recreated some years ago by the Standard.
I should be inclined to say that for the next year to be able to distribute local bodies for the raising of more mid-level schools to the high school and some elementary schools to the middle grade.

The details of the various matters under consideration with the Council and the various persons to be taken for (b) perhaps it is enough to say that for is not prepared to accept the Hon. member's suggestion
