. 154, [In view of the fact that only 36 schools with 2,325 pupils out of 1,096 private Mussalman schools with 43,862 scholars have been brought to the list of recognized elementary schools in the last official year, and also that the number of Sub Assistant Inspectors of Muhammadan Schools has recently been increased will the Government be pleased to direct that special efforts shall be put forth to bring a larger number of the private Quran maktabas or schools every year into the category of the aided recognized schools so that their secular side may be developed under the guidance and control of the Sub Assistant Inspectors of Muhammadan schools?

The Additional Member has taken his figures from para. 122 of vol. I of the Public Instruction Report for 1916-17. It is stated therein that "the fact that 36 schools with 2,325 pupils which were returned as Duran schools on 31st March 1916 have been brought to the list of recognised elementary schools and shown as public elementary schools for boys during the year 1916-17 indicates that some success is attending the efforts of inspecting officers to induce the teachers in Duran schools to add a secular side to their schools." This shows that what really stands in the way of more schools being recognised is the reluctance of teachers in the schools to get them so recognised and not the want of effort on the part of inspecting officers. Further, the recognition of elementary schools is contingent on the ~~provision~~ fulfilment of the provisions of Chapt. II of the Madras Educational Rule and unless the teachers satisfy those rules the efforts of the inspecting officers should end in failure. In the circumstances the Additional Member's question which ~~is calculated to~~ ^{might} create the impression that the inspecting officers are not doing all that they could do in the matter is misleading. The question would have been just if he could name some of the institutions which satisfied the rules of recognition but were ^{not} brought promptly brought on the list of recognized schools owing to indifference of the inspecting officers or if the Additional Member could substantiate the allegation that the inspecting officers are not ~~not~~ exerting themselves to the utmost. The measuring of the inspecting officers' efforts by the results can hardly be a valid test in this case. In the absence of valid reasons for imputing any blame to the inspecting officers, it is for consideration whether the answer to the question may be

The Govt have no reason to suppose that the inspecting officers are not doing their best in the matter.

I think the teachers know that the manager must act as a secular side to their school to get them recognition. But they are usually unwilling to do and we want the answer that the inspecting officers are doing all they can to persuade and help them. I would therefore prefer the ~~first~~ answer suggested by the Secretary's office.

The question and answer as finally approved were as follows:

Recognition of private Muhammadan schools.

146 Q.—In view of the fact that only 36 schools with 2,325 pupils out of 1,096 private Mussalman schools with 43,862 scholars have been brought to the list of recognized elementary schools in the last official year, and also that the number of Sub-Assistant Inspectors of Muhammadan schools has recently been increased, will the Government be pleased to direct that special efforts shall be put forth to bring a larger number of the private Quran Makhtabs or schools every year into the category of the aided recognized schools so that their secular side may be developed under the guidance and control of the Sub-Assistant Inspectors of Muhammadan schools?

146 A.—The Government have no reason to suppose that the inspecting officers are not doing their best in the matter.
