him for the exemption prayed for. He has passed type-writing -- Intermediate Grade and Short hand & Book Keeping, Elementary Grades. He has a fair knowledge of English, capacity for work and a good character. He deserves the exemption applied for.

I therefore request that the Government will be pleased to take his request into ^{their} ~~his~~ favourable consideration and grant -- him the exemption prayed for.

Copies of his petition, with the endorsement of the Head Master and the Council's resolution, are herewith submitted.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

M. Lakshmana Ayyar
Chairman.

[Exemption of Mr. Krishnaswami Ayyar, works in the mun. high school, from general education qualifications with a view to enable him to appear for certain special tests]

[C.N. 1686m] from the C.M.C. Tirupattur No 413, 15/2/18

Article 24-A of the Mun. Account Code prescribes qualifications for the post of managers and head accountants in mun. offices on a maximum salary of Rs 50 per mensem and upwards. The Account test is required of persons aspiring for the post of head accountant and this and the translation lower test of candidates for the post of manager.

2. It is for Home (Education) to grant the exemption applied for in the present case. The file may be transferred to that department with such recommendation as may be considered fit. - Cf. G.O. No 382 Home (Edn), 3/19-3-17.

What are the general orders about admission to special tests?

2/3/18 RSC

Under rule 4 of the rules embodied in the special Tests notification as modified by para 1 (iii) of G.O. No 1021 Home (Education) dated 6th August 1917, the possession of a completed secondary school-leaving certificate or its equivalent entitles a candidate to appear for all the various examinations held under the special Tests notification. The applicant in the present case has read up to the Sixth Form & so cannot appear for the special tests without an exemption.

The rule quoted is that any Govt servant possessing a completed S.S.L.C. is entitled to appear for the special tests. Is any discrimination exercised in regard to the admission of persons who are not Govt servants?

to different special tests, and this rule applies equally to Govt servants and non-Govt servants. Ld. No 1021 Home (E.S.) dated 6th August 1917, modifies it only in favour of Govt servants by prescribing for them a minimum general educational qualification, viz, a completed secondary school-leaving certificate or its equivalent, for admission to all the special tests. The question as to whether any discrimination should be exercised in regard to the admission of non-Govt servants possessing a completed secondary school-leaving certificate to all the special tests is, ^(it is understood,) under consideration in Home (E.S.).

So, the rule quoted is that 6.3.18. Will Home (E.S.) kindly say what the position is in regard to persons who are not Govt servants?

Dated: That final orders have not issued on the eligibility of non-Port. Students to appear for Special tests. The Honble. Sir Alexander Leitch has ~~been~~ noted that no differentiation need be drawn between people in Port. employ and others and that any one who possessed the minimum general educational qualifications specified in para (i) of G.O. No. 1021 Edn. of the 6th Aug. 1917 should be permitted to appear for Special tests. A draft notice to carry out the suitable changes in the Special Test and Public Service Notices have been prepared and is under ~~the~~ consideration.

The candidate in the present case does not possess or completed S. S. T. e. or its equivalent and is not therefore eligible to appear for special tests unless specially permitted by the Govt.
The policy of the Govt. has till now been very liberal in the matter of giving permission to employees under local bodies to appear for special tests. But since in G. O. No. 1021 S. D. M. d/ 6th Aug.
1917 all the special tests have been
thence open to holders of S. S. T. e. or its equivalent the opinion has been expressed by the L. S. M. that the number of candidates for special

Tests should be kept within the manageable limits. In this view it seems desirable to discourage applications for exemption from the minimum general educational qualification required for admission to Special Tests.
