Home (Civ.) Dept.
Draft
According to the <sup>which is now under revision</sup> Elementary Education Bill, when a sufficient number of school places has been provided in any area the municipal council or taluk board in charge of such area may <sup>with the sanction of Govt.</sup> resolve to introduce compulsory elementary education for all boys in that area.

When such compulsion is introduced, it is incumbent on parents to send boys of particular age to school.

In order to enable local bodies to provide the necessary school places, it is proposed to levy a cess under the Act, and the Govt. also propose to contribute a sum equal to that ~~could~~ realized by the levy of the cess.

2. The word 'compulsion'

used with reference to the Bill ~~refers~~ refers to compulsion <sup>in notifying areas</sup> on the part of parents to ~~compulsion~~ send the children to school. It is for orders at school of boys of specified ages within their areas.

The question asks for an interpretation of a statement of H.P. I wonder if it does not offend rule 4(d). However this is for "Legislative".

The question and answer as finally approved were as follows:

Compulsory elementary education.

89 Q.—Will the Government be pleased to state, with regard to the observation of His Excellency the President in the matter of withdrawing the resolution regarding a Bill for compulsory elementary education on the 4th April 1918 that the Government are engaged in framing a scheme for the reorganization of elementary education which will include a provision for compulsion, whether compulsion refers to the compulsion of parents for sending their boys where schools are available or whether it merely refers to the compulsion of boards and municipalities to provide schools to accommodate the boys that are willing to study?

89 A.—The former was intended.

No further action seems necessary now. The notes may be

The Govt of India circular recently received lays stress on the "later"; but of course this has nothing to do with this question.
