Sanctioning the proposal of the Director of Public Instruction to institute six scholarships of Rs. 12 per mensem each for the benefit of non-Brahman Hindu widows studying in the Government Secondary and Training school for mistresses, Triplicane.

READ—the following paper :—

Letter—from the Hon'ble Mr. J. H. STONE, M.A., F.R.H.S., C.I.E., Director of Public Instruction.

To—the Secretary to Government, Home (Education) Department.

Dated—Madras, the 13th September 1918.

No.—R.C. 6584.

I have the honour to state that I have received the following letter from the Inspectress of Girls' schools, Central Circle, regarding the award of scholarships to non-Brahman widows :—

“ With reference to the representation made by the non-Brahman community in their address to His Excellency the Viceroy last December and to the interviews which I have had with Doctor Nair and Mr. O. Kandaswami Chetti, I herewith submit recommendations for promoting higher education of non-Brahman girls. Unlike Brahmans, non-Brahman girls as a rule marry much later and when widowed they are accordingly much too old to benefit by secondary education. It will not be possible therefore to establish a hostel for non-Brahman widows similar to the Government Brahman widows' hostel. At the same time I consider it quite reasonable to afford some special pecuniary help to encourage gifted non-Brahman girls to complete their secondary school-leaving certificate examination. As a rule the girls who are willing to come forward to study in secondary schools are too poor to be able to pay either the boarding fees or the school fees. I would therefore strongly recommend that as a beginning six resident scholarships of Rs. 12 each should be awarded to six pupils from 1st July 1918, who are willing to join the Triplicane school and who will reside in the non-Brahman hostel. In anticipation of sanction, I have already admitted two promising girls, one in the II Form and one in the I Form, both of whom are anxious to be educated for the teaching profession, but who cannot afford to pay either the hostel fees of Rs. 10 per mensem or the school fees, not to mention books, clothing, medical fees and railway fare. Other applications are under consideration but until the scholarships are definitely sanctioned, they cannot be considered. The awarding of the above scholarships will go a long way to satisfy the reasonable requirements of the non-Brahman community and at the same time will be a means of educating and training potential teachers for the numerous schools under public management which are now prevented from further development owing to the lack of trained secondary mistresses who are fit to fill the post of headmistress.

2. I would also suggest that on receiving a scholarship parents and guardians of the scholarshipholders should sign a declaration that they are willing to allow their daughters and wards to continue their studies until they have completed the secondary school-leaving certificate course and training and then serve as teachers in schools under public management for at least three years.”

It appears to me that the recommendations of the Inspectress are sound, and I have therefore the honour to recommend that scholarships of the monthly value of Rs. 12 each, subject to there being a maximum of six in all in any one year, may be sanctioned to be awarded by the Inspectress and to be tenable in the Girls' Secondary and Training school, Triplicane. Three scholarships may be awarded this year and three next, further scholarships being awarded as vacancies occur.

2. The ultimate annual cost of these proposals will be Rs. 864. If they meet with the approval of Government the amount required for the current year will be met from savings and a reappropriation statement submitted, if necessary. I further propose to include the necessary provision in the next year's budget.

Order—No. 1357, Home (Education), dated the 21st October 1918.

The Government sanction the proposal of the Director of Public Instruction to institute six scholarships of the value of Rs. 12 per mensem each for the benefit of non-Brahman Hindu widows studying in the Government Secondary and Training school for mistresses, Triplicane.

NOTES CONNECTED WITH G.O. No. 1357, HOME (EDUCATION),
DATED 21st OCTOBER 1918.

[SUBJECT.—Scholarships for non-Brahman widows in the Secondary and Training School for Mistresses, Triplicane.]

HOME (EDUCATION) DEPARTMENT.

From the Director of Public Instruction, dated 13th September 1918, R.C. No. 6584.

Please see G.O. No. 785, Educational, dated 26th August 1912, in which Government sanctioned the opening of a hostel and a scheme of scholarships for the benefit of Brahman widows in the Presidency Training School for Mistresses. The number and value of these scholarships have been augmented from time to time and there are now, in all, 53 scholarships of Rs. 15 each attached to the widows' home at Triplicane. (Cf. G.Os. Nos. 371, Educational, dated 25th April 1913; 128, Educational, dated 30th January 1914; 357, Educational, dated 29th March 1915; 1331, Educational, dated 6th December 1915; and 399, Educational, dated 8th April 1916.)

2. The primary object of these scholarships is to stimulate the supply of trained women teachers to staff the various girls' schools under public management; please see paragraph 103 of the Public Instruction Report for 1916-17. (Cf. also paragraph 2 of Director of Public Instruction's letter at page 2 of G.O. No. 785, dated 26th August 1912.) Besides the special scholarships for Brahman widows, there are also 63 scholarships open to Hindu and Muhammadan widows: a list of these scholarships is given at page 20 of G.O. No. 476, Educational, dated 15th July 1911. From the supplemental statistics No. 97 at page 82 of Volume II of the Public Instruction Report it appears that the sanctioned number has proved insufficient and that on the 31st March 1917 there were as many as 75 widows (55 Hindu plus 20 Muhammadan) in receipt of scholarships.

3. The Director of Public Instruction now proposes to institute six scholarships of Rs. 12 each to be awarded to non-Brahman widows in the secondary classes of the Triplicane school. The number and value of the scholarships seem moderate: Rs. 15 is the rate adopted in the case of Brahman widow scholarships and in the case of the scholarships at the Vizagapatam school. (Cf. G.O. No. 683, Educational, dated 26th July 1912.) The number, six, will eventually be distributed over all the six classes in the secondary department at the rate of one for each class. The ultimate extra cost will be Rs. 864 per annum.

4. A draft order sanctioning the proposal is submitted. The Director of Public Instruction proposes to meet the extra expenditure in the current year from savings under '22-H.-Scholarships.' He will also include the necessary provision in the next year's budget. The draft, if approved, may go to Financial unofficially for acceptance.

E.A.V.—26-9-18.

N.K.—26-9-18.

There has been a good deal of complaint in the local press—'Justice'—about the special preference shown to Brahman widows. The present proposal will allay any such. Further Hindu caste teachers are wanted badly for the new and existing schools. It is necessary therefore to enlarge the field of recruitment and with that object induce non-Brahman widows to take to teaching.

C. RAMANUJA ACHARIYAR—30-9-18.

The Director of Public Instruction proposes to institute three scholarships this year and three more next year. In view of the urgent necessity of caste teachers, all the six may be instituted this year, if applications are forthcoming. The draft is worded accordingly.

R. RAMACHANDRA RAO—2-10-18.

FINANCIAL DEPARTMENT.

The draft order may, it is submitted, be accepted in Financial.

S.V.—5-10-18.

The Director of Public Instruction may be left to meet by reappropriation the extra cost, if any, on account of granting more than three scholarships this year.
