Station Madras Dated the 13th July 1918.

From (Name) M.R. Ry. Rao Saheb H. Krishna Sastri Ayl., B.A.

(Designation) Assistant Archaeological Superintendent for Epigraphy, Southern Circle.

To The Secretary to the Government of Madras,

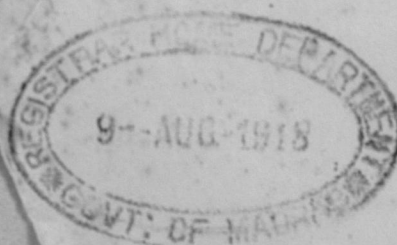

H O M E (Education) Department.

Sir,

2

With reference to G.O. No. 890, Home (Education) Department, dated the 5th July 1918, I beg to propose that the current collection of a year as soon as it is reviewed in the Report, will be placed in the hands of the newly sanctioned Assistant for being checked, fair copied, printed and issued without any mistakes. As however, the inscriptions of a year cannot by themselves bring up the number to 2000 as required by the G.O., the Senior Assistant incharge of Publication and the Special Assistant and others of the establishment, as they find time after finishing the report work, will also check and and revise about 1500 inscriptions of the old collection commencing with the year 1886.

With reference to para 3 of G.O. read above, I beg to submit that of my two Senior Assistants Messrs. G.Venkoba Rao and V.V. Subrahmanya Ayyar who are both capable of doing the special work, I have appointed Mr. G.Venkoba Rao the senior of the two to be the Special publication assistant pending orders on his application for exempting him from the operation of G.O.No. 265, Public, dated the 15th April 1909 which debars him from drawing the increments regularly in his present appointment.

The list of institutions and scholars to whom copies of this publication may be supplied, might be the same as that of the scholars to whom archaeological publications are now distributed gratis. I would, however, include the following names:-

1. M.R.Ry. J. Ramayya Pantulu Garu, Retired Deputy Collector, Muktesvaram, Godavari district.
2. " G.V. Ramamurthi Pantulu, Jajpore, Vizagapatam district.
3. " S. Krishnaswamy Iyyengar, University Professor of Indian History and Archaeology.

C.No.1460/B, from the A.A.S. for Epigraphy, 374, dated the 13th July 1918.

Subject:- Appointment of the special publication Assistant recently sanctioned in connection with the publication of epigraphical inscriptions.

The special publication assistant's post sanctioned in G.O. No.890 Ean., dated the 5th July 1918 carries a pay of Rs.200 p.m. Mr. Krishna Sastri who was asked to submit his nomination for this place states that he has already put Mr. Venkoba Rao, his permanent senior assistant, (now drawing Rs.170 in the scale of Rs.150-10-250) in charge of the new special appointment. It will no doubt be advantageous to have as publication assistant one who knows the work well. He will be much more useful than a raw man who has no experience of epigraphy and the working of the Epigraphist's office. The proposal seems a good one and Mr. Venkoba Rao's appointment may therefore be approved.

2. The appointment is made pending orders on the question of permanent pay of Mr. Venkoba Rao, which has been separately submitted for orders. That matter is now under reference to the Financial department. Whatever might be the final decision in regard to the pay of Mr. Venkoba Rao in the permanent scale of Rs.150-10-250, there seems to be no objection to his being given the full pay of Rs.200 of the new special appointment. The condition imposed by G.O.265 dated 15-4-09, that Mr. Rao should complete his B.A.degree examination before he could be promoted to Rs.180 in the sanctioned scale, cannot be

para. 2 of the G.O. ②

held to apply to his appointment to the new post. Even in the main case it has been proposed by the Secy. that Mr. Rao may be given Rs.200 in the scale. There seems therefore to be no objection to Mr. Rao's being given the full pay of Rs.200.

3. Mr. Krishna Sastri next proposes that in making up the 2000 inscriptions for publication, the current collections of a year should form the first portion, ~~the~~ the balance being the older collections commencing with 1886. The danger of adopting this system will be that more prominence and attention will be given to the current collections and we may have to run the risk of the prescribed number not being made up. The report is submitted & reviewed late in the year and the current collections, if taken up after that, may not be prepared and passed through the press in time before the remaining portion of the year. While the offer that the permanent members of the staff will be required to assist in publishing the old collections will be useful, the proposal that on that account the special assistant should be asked to prepare the matter relating to current collections may not conduce to the speedy printing of the collections. The arrangement will gradually result in the Publication Assistant devoting a large portion of his time to regular report work (on the ground of getting the current collections ready). Further, older collections should obviously be taken up first as they run the risk of damage much more than the newer ones. It is therefore submitted that Mr. Krishna Sastriyar may be told that he should begin the publication from the earliest dates, without mixing up the old and new ones. He may at the same time be asked to keep the newer collections fair copied and checked and kept ready for the press by the permanent establishment.

as they are being gathered.

4. In regard to the A.A.S.'s proposal for the distribution of copies of the texts of inscriptions, when published, it may be observed that Sir John Marshall's suggestion was that 600 copies of each text should be printed, of which fifty copies should be circulated to scholars, the remaining 550 copies being kept in stock pending a fuller publication of the inscription. The A.A.S. who was asked to submit proposals for the distribution of copies states that the distribution may be the same as that of - Archaeological publications. The latter is a pretty long list consisting of 450 items roughly - Vide G.O. 1369 Pub. dated 19th July 1916. This distribution was also mainly adopted in the case of Mr. Ranga Achari's "Topographical list of inscriptions in the Madras Presidency". The A.A.S. proposes the inclusion of further names also, numbering about 25. If this suggestion is approved, the distribution will exhaust about 475 copies out of the 600 proposed to be printed. It does not appear that Sir John Marshall contemplates such a wide distribution, and as the publication is to be only of the texts it would appear sufficient if the distribution is confined to real scholars and institutions who would really advance the cause of research. In this view it seems desirable to draw the attention of the A.A.S. to Sir John Marshall's opinion and to ask him to revise his proposals for distribution and furnish Govt. with a definite revised list.

In making up the 2000 inscriptions for publication under the G.O. I proposed to include the current collection of the year, Thinking that by this arrangement we could at least avoid the accumulation of arrears in future years. Besides, it may be remarked that some of the records secured in the early years of the department, have not been copied completely and a large number of the copied ones have lost their tint and could not on that account be properly deciphered. Such inscriptions will have to be recopied and the time spent in doing this, would be minimised if the current collection is also included,—the latter supplying regularly 600-700 inscriptions for publication each year. But, it is immaterial for historical purposes what inscriptions the publication volume includes and with which of them it begins. As suggested by Government the volume may begin with the collection of 1886.

With reference to the proposals of Sir. John Marshall the revised distribution list of scholars and institutions may be as hereunder.

3 The point now arises whether Mr. Venkatesh Rao while on deputation under G.O. 1129 Edn, dt/3rd Sep. 1918 can count his services therein for increments in the permanent post. The rules governing the question are at p. 48 of the Madras Supplement to the L.S.R. (Notes 102 to Art 160 of the C.S.R.). The intention in the present instance does not appear to be to occasion any loss to Mr. Venkatesh Rao and since the work on special duty is identical with the work appertaining to his permanent appt., the Govt. may declare that service in the Special appt. shall count for increments in the Substantive appt. - Vide ruling 2 under Art. 160 of the C.S.R. at p. 48 of the Madras Supplement to the L.S.R. The result is curious. Under the Financial ruling above, Govt. gives Rs 100 per annum for a year Rs 20 for part of another year. But if the suggestion above is accepted, which is inevitable if Mr. Venkatar is to be treated fairly, Govt. loses at once Rs 50 per annum.

2. From an administrative point of view it is necessary that Venkatar who knows the work should do the special work, whatever post he fills in paper.

3. Since the circumstances will surely consider the advisability of attaching increments to the special post?
