2. The traces put in a memorial for permanent exemption from the examination rules & his request was negatived in G.O.R. No 204 Home (Edn) DT. 9.18. When considering his memorial he was taken to be a temporary traces as there was nothing in it to show that he was given a permanent appointment. From the present correspondence it will be seen that he is holding a permanent appointment & was appointed as such in March 1914 ie before the issue of G.O. No 1213 Edn. D 30.10.14 which prescribes certain tests for traces. Prior to this order traces were required to possess only the general educational qualification prescribed in Article 1 of the Public Service Notification. The traces does not possess this qualification therefore his appointment

As permanent traces, the SE should have obtained his exemption from the examination rules. Mr. Parkes, the then SE, appears to have appointed this man permanently without obtaining the necessary exemption presumably under a misapprehension. The man has put in a service of about $9\frac{1}{2}$ years of which $6\frac{1}{2}$ years' service ($1\frac{1}{2}$ temporary and $4\frac{1}{2}$ permanent) is continuous. It is also reported that the traces is an experienced hand that has been doing his work satisfactorily. In the circumstances, the traces' permanent exemption from the examination rules in ^{partial} modification of G.O. No. 204 Home (Ed. 2) D. 1. 9. 18 may it is submitted, be recommended to the Home (Ed. 2) Dept. No. It is submitted in this connection that permanent exemption was granted to P. D. Somasundara Mud., a permanent traces in the same circle whose case is almost similar to this.

The S. E. applies only for the temporary exemption of the tracer. But the P. W. D. recommends his permanent exemption ^{appears} because in his original application, the tracer requested permanent exemption from the examination rules and the S. E. appointed him permanently in March 1914, though without obtaining the sanction of Gr. G.
This for consideration whether
