Station Madras, Dated the 11 December 1918.

From (Name) The Hon'ble Mr. H.S. Duncan, M.A.
(Designation) Ag. Director of Public Instruction.

To The Secretary to the Government of Madras, HOME (EDUCATION) Department.
(Through the Accountant - General).
Sir,

In continuation of my letter R.C. No. 9547/18, dated 5th December 1918, I have the honour to state that Miss R. McLeod writes as follows in regard to her special study during the period of the furlough applied for by her :-

- (1) That she hopes to spend the maximum period permissible or her furlough on special duty with special allowances (i.e., at least one year; if possible 4 terms or the major part of two years).
- (2) that an allowance of two-thirds of her present pay will be insufficient and
- (3) that in the course of her special study she hopes to attend special classes in Natural Science, and perhaps in Chemistry and Physics in the University of Aberdeen and also to visit under proper direction some of the best educational institutions (schools and training colleges) of Great Britain and, if possible, of France also.

2. Her reasons for desiring to take this course are--

(1) that during more than 10 years' uninterrupted work in Madras she has lost touch with what is most modern both in training methods and in knowledge generally;

(2) that her experience in Madras has led her to believe that a teacher of Indian girls, must have a certain amount of training in Science, particularly the Natural Sciences, whatever her special work may be;

and (3) that as her work in Madras has always been concerned with the training of teachers, it is essential that she should know what is being done in the best educational institutions in the West.

3. Although the term of special duty should ordinarily not exceed six months under the Secretary of State's Despatch embodied in G.O. No. 49, Edl., dated 30th January 1903, I beg to recommend that for the reasons given above the term be extended, if possible, to a year in the case of Miss McLeod, but I am doubtful whether the allowances during the period should exceed the rates prescribed in the Despatch, viz., two-thirds of her Indian pay and the actual travelling expenses incurred.

4. The favour of early orders is requested.

I have the honour to be,
Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

for Director of Public Instruction.

1. Forwarded in continuation of this office No.A.D.H./250 dated 9th December 1918 reporting on the eligibility of Miss McLeod for furlough.

2. The sanction of the Secretary of State is necessary for any deputation of an officer on duty outside India, vide article 84-A. Civil Service Regulations, and Rule III (4) (a) Finance Department Resolution 368 G.I. (E.A.) dated 15th March 1913, also para 4 of the Government of India Despatch recorded in G.O. 49 Edl. dated 30th January 1903.

3. A reference is respectfully invited to the Secretary of State's Despatch 146 Public (Educational) dated 28th November 1902 recorded in G.O. 49 (Edl.) dated 30th January 1903 in which it has been laid down as a general principle that the period of special duty for the purpose of special study, should not exceed six months and that the officer's ^{deputed} ~~deputy~~ should receive only two thirds of their Indian pay and the actual travelling expenses incurred by them.

The rules regarding the deputation of Officers of the I. E. S. for special study while on furlough are ^{contained in G.O.} H. 9. Ed. D. 30-1-03 and are as follows:—

- (1) The Scheme need not be confined to ~~technical~~ inspectors and teachers in technical and scientific subjects and the selection of the places for study need not necessarily be confined to Europe.
- " (2) The longest possible notice should be given to the G. of I. of such proposals in order that ~~they~~ steps may be taken for making the necessary arrangements.
- " (3) The D. P. I. in the province concerned should consider the proposals carefully with reference both to the needs of the province and also to the fitness ^{of the officer} to carry them out.
- " (4) A full statement of the points of enquiry and the reasons for enquiry into them should be furnished in each case.
- " (5) As a general rule a period of six months will be sufficient for such enquiries.
- " (6) An officer so deputed will be required to make careful notes of the studies which he pursues and the observation which he snakes and to submit them on return to the D.P.I. Local Govt will, in due course forward copies to the Govt of India.

2. In the case submitted for consideration Condition (5) is not fulfilled. The D.P.I. recommends that the period of Miss McLeod's special study should be one year. It is for consideration whether the Director's recommendation will be accepted.

3. As regards the allowance which Miss McLeod will be entitled to during the period of her deputation, attention is directed to para 1 of the despatch at p 3 of G.O. 49251 of 30-1-03.

4. A draft order is submitted for approval.
