I received yesterday the following letter from Mr. Stone. Proceed upon it

Rosewood

29 July 18

My dear Diwan Bahadur,

His Excellency has decided to place Mr. Duncan on special duty in my office from 15 July in order that he may help in drafting the Education bill and also relieve me of some of my work. The appointment is analogous with my appointment as Temporary Special Deputy Director of Public Instruction in 1912 and I should think that the same order then issued would serve. Anyhow I am to ask you to be so kind as to draft the necessary order and put things in train. I suppose that the duration of the appointment will be until further order.

His Excellency has said nothing about the question of pay. I got Rs 250 extra at first and Rs 500 later. I should think the former amount would meet the case. Duncan would then get Rs 1260 + 100 + 250 = Rs 1600.

Yours sincerely

(507)

Mr Stone was first granted the deputation allowance admissible under the rules viz Rs 300/- Subsequently with sanction of the Govt. of India, this was raised to Rs 500/-

It is submitted that to begin with the period of special duty may be fixed at six months, as the Act is likely to object if the period is not specified. It may be extended afterwards, if necessary.

2. A draft order is submitted for approval. It may be sent to Financial for acceptance.

Deputation allowance?

1.7.18

Please see the H.M.s (Frib.) note 8 10.3.18 on pp 9-10 of notes to G.O. No. 293 Frib. 86.4.18, which has been recently been accepted by an 'Order in Council' as the basis for the grant of deputation allowances. This decision postulates that a deputation allowance can be granted only when the special duty involves a change of station; if it is for more than 3 months, the allowance can be given as a matter of course,

If it does not exceed 3 months, Substantial Extra Expense should be proved.

2. In the present case, Mr. Duncan is Principal, Teacher's College, Saidapet, while the Special duty is at the Old College, Mungambakkam. Although technically, there may be a change of station, there will, it is submitted, be practically no change. The special duty being for less than 3 months, the Officer has to prove that he has to incur Substantial Extra Expense, whereas it is hardly likely that there will be any Extra Expense. In the Circumstances, a deputation allowance does not seem admissible.

3. The draft order may be accepted subject to orders on para: 2 above.

8th 10.7.18 / I incline to doubt whether there is a case for the grant of a deputation allowance. There will presumably be no breaking up of a home and migration to a different locality. Nor do I think that it can be urged that the work for which Mr. Duncan will be deputed is very much more responsible than his present appointment. It would not be submitted in view of a deputation allowance. Q. M. S. 1. 18

There is no doubt that under the general principle recently approved Mr Duncan is not eligible for any deputation allowance, though personally I think he ought to get one in view of the enhanced responsibility.

If Home Dept. want to get out orders immediately the best plan will be to omit paras 2 & 3 of the draft & deal separately with the question of allowances.

Submitted for orders as to whether paras 2 & 3 of the draft may be omitted for the present as suggested by the Financial Department. It may be noted in this connection that Mr Duncan is now occupying rent free quarters at Saidapet and that he ~~will~~ may have to vacate and engage a new residence at Madras unless specially permitted to continue to occupy his quarters. In that case he will have to incur heavy expense in conveyance charges.
