Madam,
~~Sir.~~

With reference to your letter No. 71 of 18, dated 7th March 1918, I have the honour to state that you are not yet eligible for furlough for 2 years, the furlough earned by you in respect of your service under the European Service ~~leave~~ rules having had to be calculated only from 22.5.1916, the date of orders of the Government of India allowing the concession to you.

I have the honour to be,
~~Sir~~ Madam,
Your most obedient servant,

O. Dhanu

Assistant Accountant-General.

Subject. Miss McLeod's leave.

Please see the notes on pages 3 to 5 of notes to go. No 602 Home (82-1) dated the 7th May 1917. It was then pointed out that a reference to the Govt of India would be necessary if Miss McLeod should ~~take~~ take two years' furlough under the European Service leave rules. As, however, she was not granted a passport to go to England, ^(atypically) the Secretary ordered that no reference was then necessary to the Govt of India. She now requests that steps may be taken to enable her to have two years' furlough. Presumably she does not propose to sail for England so long as the present restrictions in regard to the grant of passports to women to proceed home are in force. It is ^{therefore} for consideration.

whether a reference to the Govt of India ^{should} ~~may~~ at once be made on the subject of her leave. If so, the draft letter below is for approval.

There is no difference in the situation between now & the time

(R) When G.O. 602. Sd. 7.5.17 issued, or if at all it is more unfavourable to any reopening of the case just at present as the bar against the grant of passports to ladies is more rigorously enforced now. Miss Meade does not apply for the leave now & she apparently does not mean to do so until she can be granted a passport. She wishes to settle the question of her eligibility for the leave she eventually wants to apply for. We may probably decide the question now whether we are to go to India & ask for retrospective sanction or adopt the A.G.'s ruling that the sanction is to take effect only from the date of India's sanction. This will give her a definite idea as to where she is.

Letter No 964 of 22.7.18.

To

The Secy. to the Govt. of India,
Dept. of Education.

Sir,

In Sir Edward MacLagan's letter No. 496, dated the 22nd May 1916, the sanction of the Govt. of India was conveyed to the extension of the benefits of the European Service Leave rule to Miss McLeod, the then incumbent of the post of lecturer in kindergarten in the Teachers' College, Saidapet. Miss McLeod, has since been appointed as Superintendent of the Presidency Training School for Mistresses, Madras. The Accountant-General ~~observes~~ observes that the furlough admissible to her under the European Service Leave rules can be calculated only from the 22nd May 1916, the date of the letter quoted above. But reading the letter carefully and the letter to which it was a repl. it appears that the Govt. of India intended to give retrospective effect to the order. Even if the ~~intention~~ ^{intention} were otherwise, I am to point out that Miss McLeod was recruited by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom and she joined her appointment in the Teachers' College, Saidapet, on the 10th November 1908. She has been in continuous service in India since that date. The Governor in Council considers that the concession of admission to the benefits of the European Service Leave rules should be allowed to her with retrospective effect from the date of her first appointment.
