The humble memorial of Kumaran, son of Karimbil Cheekkoppan, a member of the Mukkuva community of Mahe, (a French City adjacent to Tellicherry, North Malabar):--
May it please your Excellency,

The memorialist belongs to a very old Mukkuva family of Mahe, North Malabar. According to the last census, the Mukkuva community of Malabar District alone numbers 19200; their inferior educational status may be graciously inferred from the circumstance that only 1676 of both sexes were returned as literate and only 86 as literate in English, a figure that well speaks for itself to deserve the sympathetic encouragement of the Government for the advancement of the Mukkuva community, whom the Government were pleased to include in the list of educationally backward communities (Vide G.O. No. 6 dated 12th January 1907--page 9).

The memorialist deferentially submits that not communicated to the High Court not transmissible - The letter does not belong

the educationally backward as well as the materially depressed condition of the community, despite all the benevolent intentions of the benign Government, is very largely traceable to the rigid and social conditions of the country from which wider education alone can save the community. Being assigned a lowly position in the social scale, the Mukkuvas, to say the least have not had any sympathy or support from the higher social classes in their attempts to uplift themselves morally and materially. Those very few in the community who have succeeded in attaining some little eminence in the Government service, or in non-official walks of life, have attributed their good fortune to the Government justice and benevolence and partly to the patronage and sympathy of the Government officers under whose notice they had been privileged to come. But, inability to give education to the young children is still being felt a stumbling block in the advancement of the younger generation owing to the poverty of the parents, as is the hard case in memorialist's instance. Memorialist had had the good fortune to read up to the Matriculation class only, but was obliged to discontinue his studies owing to poverty, but he begs to submit that he has passed the Middle School Examination in 1890 and Government Book-Keeping Intermediate in 1901 and also Survey in 1913.

The memorialist respectfully submits to Your Excellency that he is a third grade Amin of the District Court of North Malabar, ---- Tellicherry drawing only Rs 15 per month though he has put in 14 years' service in the Department. He is already about 45 years old and has 3 sons to educate besides having a large family to support. He most respectfully submits to Your Excellency that the present keen competition debars him from future prospects of promotion on account of the Examination rules.

The memorialist therefore most humbly and respectfully prays that Your Excellency may be graciously pleased to exempt him from having to pass the School Final Examination, so as to enable him to draw more than 20 Rupees salary in due course of time, so that he may be able to give some English education to his children.

Though it may be superfluous on his part to state in so many words that the members of his family are perfectly loyal subjects of His Imperial Majesty the King of Great Britain, he begs Your Excellency's permission most respectfully to state that seven of his relations have volunteered their services in serving the Military Department during the recent Great War. His brother K. Bargaven is a Havildar in the 75th Carnatic Infantry and another brother Anantan No. 791 is in 2/80 D. Company as a Sepoy in Trichinopoly besides 2 of his brothers-in-law and 2 cousins and another brother-in-law who is a military Sub Assistant Surgeon.

The memorialist now begs most respectfully to submit herewith for Your Excellency's kind perusal a true copy of a valuable recommendation which the Administrator of Mahe has been kindly pleased to give him and also a copy of a certificate given him by Mr. S. G. Roberts, I.C.S., the late District Judge of North Malabar.

In conclusion the Memorialist most respectfully submits that the exemption prayed for, will, besides helping the memorialist and his family be a kindly act of encouragement to the community, as it will help him to educate his growing children, who must help to constitute the community; for which act of benevolence, memorialist, his whole family and the educationally depressed community will feel highly grateful to Your Excellency.
