To The Secretary to the Government of Madras,

Home (Education) Department.

Sir, /Through the Accountant-General/

The retention of the post of peripatetic teacher of music for the European schools in Madras and for the Presidency Training School for mistresses, Egmore, on a consolidated salary of Rs.180 per mensem first sanctioned in G.O.No.244 Educational Mis., dated 6-3-16 temporarily for one year with effect from the 1st March 1916 has subsequently been sanctioned for further period, and the last sanction for one year accorded in G.O.No.199 Home (Education) dated 16-2-18 has effect up to the end of February 1919. In accordance with the Inspector's recommendation recommendation, I have the honour to request sanction for further retention of the post for one year with effect from the 1st March 1919. The usual provision for it has been made in the budget for 1919-20.

2. Miss Iles who was the sub protem 7th assistant of the Secondary School attached to the Presidency Training School for mistresses, Egmore on a salary of Rs.30 per mensem was appointed to the post, which she still continues to hold. When she was appointed her work in the Presidency Training School was confined to teaching singing to the students under training. Now, the Superintendent of the Presidency Training School states that the lack of instruction in singing to the pupils of the model section is a very great defect, and requests that arrangements may be made for Miss Iles to teach singing to the pupils in addition to the training students. She further reports that Miss Iles is unable to undertake the additional work without an additional remuneration of Rs.30 per mensem. I agree with the Superintendent that it is necessary to teach singing to the pupils of the model school, and I consider that the additional pay of Rs.30 per mensem requested by Miss Iles is reasonable. I beg therefore to request that the pay of the post of peripatetic teacher of music may be raised from Rs.180 to Rs.210 per mensem with effect from the 1st March 1919 and that the necessary provision for the increase may be made in the budget for 1919-20 under "22-E-Education-Government schools, General-Secondary schools for girls-Salaries-Peripatetic teacher of music".

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

N. Ariane

sanctioned, please see ~~the~~ Sir H. M.

2/6th March 1916. The post has been since then continued from year to year and Miss Diles has been holding the post for now nearly three years.

2 The Director now proposes to continue the app't: for another year from 1st March 1919, the date of expiry of the existing sanction and to raise the pay of the app't: from Rs 180 to 210 p.m. with effect

The first part of the proposal may, it is subd., be sanctioned at once.
As regards the second part, the Director's present intention is ^{that Miss Diles} she will now be required to impart instruction in music to the pupils of the model school attached to the Presidency School, Egmore and that for the additional work involved she should be given an extra Rs 30.
From the correspondence and orders with the G.O. at (V) it will be observed that original arrangement was that Miss Jiles should, besides her ~~para~~ peripatetic work, give lessons in music in the Egmore School and it is on account of this she is given a consoli-

 -ated pay of Rs 180 (150 for peripatetic work + Rs 30 for work in the Egmore School) and designated "Peripatetic Teacher of music for European School in Madras & for the Friday Training School for mistresses, Egmore". It now appears that Miss Jiles' work has so far been confined to the Training Section only though there has been no specific authorisation for such restriction. In view however of the fact that the practice has been like that and that the ^{in the model section} work ~~now proposed~~ to be given to her will certainly entail extra labour and responsibility the increase of Rs 30 in her emolu-ments suggested by the D. P. D. may perhaps be agreed to.

The case may be sent to Financial w/o for acceptance of the proposal and for making addl:
 provision in the B. E. for 1919-20

Up to the beginning of 1916 Miss Stes was Headmistress of the Madras School of Music. On the death of this institution Miss Stes was appointed as ^{Temporary} teacher of music for European Schools in Madras and for the Presiding Training School for Women, though she asked Rs 300 p.m. and a carriage allowance if she were required to devote the whole of her time to the teaching of music in European Schools. It is now reported that she states that she is unable to undertake the additional work in the model school attached to the Training School for Women unless she is paid an additional Rs 30 p.m. The position thus is that we must pay her that Rs 30 p.m. which she asks or allow the pupils in the model school to go without music lessons, for it is impossible to obtain anyone of Miss Stes' qualifications for Rs 30 p.m., or indeed to obtain any qualified music teacher for this sum. The value of Miss Stes' work has been made public in the inter-school singing contests which are now an annual feature of the educational activities of European Schools in Madras and it is now proposed to lay in the extension of these

To the Secretary to the Govt. of India Home Department.

Sir,

I am directed to address the Govt. of India on the subject of the employment of Miss ^{Iles} ~~Iles~~ as peripatetic teacher of music for European schools. Prior to 1916, the Madras School of Music, a private institution subsidized by the Govt. was providing systematic instruction in pianoforte, violin playing, singing, harmony and the theory of music to European pupils. In January 1916 the school of music was closed and with a view to provide for the teaching of singing in European schools, Miss ~~Iles~~ Iles, a European lady who was the headmistress of the school was appointed peripatetic teacher of music for the European schools in the Madras city and for the pupils of the training section of the Presidency training school for mistresses, Egmore, on a consolidated salary of Rs. 180 p.m. Under the terms of her appointment she was to lecture on the theory and practice of class singing once a week at a central institution for the benefit of teachers, visit three schools a week in rotation and give two forty minutes lessons at each. To begin with, she was engaged for a year from 1st March 1916 and her work having been reported to have proved a great success, her services have been retained from year to year.

2. It is now proposed to continue her services for another year from the 1st March 1919, to extend the sphere of her work by requiring her to give lessons in music to the pupils of the model section of the Presidency training school ^{for mistresses, Egmore} and to give her an additional remuneration of Rs. 30 p.m. for the extra work involved. As this would bring her total ^(monthly) emoluments to Rs. 210 and as she is a European, I am to request that the Govt. of India will be pleased to sanction under Article 773(a) of the Civil Accounts Code, Volume II, her temporary employment on the enhanced rate of salary with effect from 1st March 1919.
