Memo to the Secy of the Department of Education

No. 477 B-1 dated

As the slack season in the Press is now approaching, it may be necessary, if work is not available, to turn off or reduce the emoluments of some of the piece workers.

2. It is desirable to keep the work as constant as possible and one way of doing this is to keep a reserve stock of work of a not very urgent character which can be taken up whenever there is a decline in the work of the more urgent classes.

3. All departments of the Secretariat are requested to be good enough to ascertain whether there are any manuals or other publications, the printing or re-printing of which has been postponed owing to the war which it is desirable now to have taken up. If there is any work of the kind, the Superintendent, Government Press, will be glad to have the manuscripts forwarded to him as early as possible so that he may be able to proceed with them when and as the other demands on the press allow.

These suggestions may be approved
