Purport of a vernacular petition in Urdu addressed to the Nizam of Hyderabad No.405, dated the 26th June 1920, received from Muhammad Abdur Rahim, Secretary and other members of the Anjuman-i-Islahul Muslehim, Mount Road, Madras, states that they, with a view to give religious education, have opened 6 night schools which are attended by the poor and business men at night. That at present they are exempted from house rents as the schools in question have been opened in the buildings of the day schools, but that such buildings are no more available. That if such schools are opened in rented buildings the rent and other expenses amount to Rs.40/- per month. That one of the above schools is opened in the building of the Clothing Board Factory which is attended by 350 scholars of the same factory and the number of night scholars is increasing rapidly.

That therefore the members of the above Anjuman wish to open 40 schools in the name of the Nizam and that a resolution has also been passed that English, Urdu, Tamil and Telugu lectures and a Maulvi Sahib also be appointed with a view to spread Islam.

Request that a sufficient pecuniary assistance may be given to the Anjuman in question.

Copy of Inspector's report dated 22nd December 1920. ^{12/1} 5 5

The object of the Anjuman is to reform the illiterate and backward portion of the Muslim community by means of promoting their education both religious and secular. To carry out this object free night schools for those who 'earn their bread during the day' are said to have been opened and priests and lecturers are reported to have been engaged to preach sermons about the tenets of Islam in public places.

The managing body consists of a President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer and 6 members of committee. With the exception of Haji Mahomed Ebrahim Sait Sahib Bahadur, one of the members, and the Secretary, Abdur Rahim Sahib, a signaller in the Government Telegraph Department, the members are old men, do not know English and care little for secular education. Not one of them has ever written a single remark in the visitors book of any one school. I am informed that the Anjuman has not for some time held a meeting to discuss its affairs. In fact it appears a one-man show more for his personal benefit.

In the six night schools together there are really about 200 children, with an average attendance of about 130. Some of these are reported to attend day schools also. For five of the schools no rent is paid and for one a rent of Rs.3/- is paid to the Secretary himself for a room in his house ! Buildings are always available.

No regular religious teaching is given. The children of the Cotton Factory are taken to the big mosque, Triplicane on special occasions. I am informed that no Moulvi has been specially appointed for religious teaching in any of the schools.

In the City of Madras, there are 12 Government Muhammadan elementary schools and 11 aided Muhammadan schools. In other aided schools where there are Muhammadan children, provision is made for Urdu teaching. The Nizam may be advised to reject the petition.
