The teachers who finished their training in 1920 are presumably employed in similar institutions under the Church Mission Society. I could obtain the information required by writing to the correspondent of the Training School. It appears to be the intention of the instigator of this question to offer inducements to one of these teachers in order to obtain him or her for his own school.

A
I have no information that the Deaf and Dumb Institute, Palamcottah, is refusing to give information regarding the teachers trained by them but if those interested in the school in Madura were to put an advertisement in suitable newspapers they might receive applications from persons who are or who consider themselves qualified to teach defective children.
