Miss Eunice Gomez, B.A., studied in my B.A. classes between July 1916
and April 1918, and passed the B.A.
Degree Examination held in April 1918. She was an able, intelligent and willing student, who tried to do her work conscientiously. I believe she has succeeded in acquiring a very fair grounding in History and Economics, the subjects of her special study.
She informs me that, if she is able to obtain the facilities, it is her desire to proceed to Europe for further study. I hope that she will be able to realise her wish, as I feel sure that her natural intelligence and studious habits combined with the very fair equipment she has already obtained, will enable her to derive real and substantial benefit from a further course of study at one of the older Universities of England.

Miss. Eunice Gomez B.A. has asked me for a certificate and I give it readily and cheerfully and most sincerely wish that she will do her all the good that she expects. She belongs to a respectable Anglo-Indian Family and her character is exemplary, while her attainments are of the highest order. As far as I know she has never failed in any of her examinations and her Teachers and Professors as well as her fellow students have always had only a good word to say of her both as regards her remarkable intelligence, steady industry and courteous conduct. She is now, it appears, applying for a Government of India Scholarship, to proceed to England to crown her life-long efforts by a course of higher studies in one of the old Universities of the mother country, and it is my firm conviction that few will be more deserving of every encouragement than this very young Lady who at such a comparatively tender age has passed the B.A. and is now appearing for the M.A. Would that her laudable ambition were realised to its fullest extent and her brilliant example followed by other members of her community. This is my most fervent wish for one whom I have known for years, and whose indomitable perseverance in spite of difficulties and whose moral worth and goodness coupled with cheerfulness of temperament I have always been impressed with.

Miss. Eunice Gomez studied in the B.A. Class of H.H. The Maharaja's College for Boys in 1916 - 1918 (Academic year) and completely qualified herself for the Degree in 1918. She was a diligent student and did her work with conscientious thoroughness and in the B.A. degree Examination. She got a Second class. She has been since studying for the M.A., Degree Examination in English and attended the College lectures for the Honours Classes in English. Her work in the class room as tested by her composition exercises showed she had been reading widely and with discrimination, that she had been assimilating some departments of literature like poetry and criticism and that she could present her thoughts methodically and in good English. She has always been very well behaved and I am glad to certify to her high intelligence and excellent character.

I have known Miss. Eunice Gomez, B.A., since June 1916 when she was admitted to the Junior B.A., Class of the Maharajas College. She took History as her optional subject and soon impressed me as a bright intelligent and earnest student. Her subsequent work and her record at examinations have only confirmed the impression.

She tells me that she is applying for a scholarship to go to England for advanced study. I am confident that she will profit by the training she would get at an English --- University and obtain distinction.

I may add that she possesses, in considerable measure those qualities of mind and character which are necessary for success in the teaching profession.

I have great pleasure in being able to certify that Miss. Eunice Gomez, B.A., who is now in the Final year Honours Class in English Language & Literature, has always struck me as an intelligent and pains-taking student who possesses abilities of a high order of merit. When she was in the B.A. classes, she used to write very good English and her work was characterised by thoroughness and intelligence of grasp. After she passed the B.A., Degree Examination, she joined up the English Honours course as a post-graduate student, and though the rules require only a two years course for graduates, her characteristic sense of thoroughness and love of knowledge for its own sake drove her to take a regular three-years course. She has in the Honours Classes also shown a desire to learn and an earnestness to work which are exemplary. I have no doubt that she will come out of the ensuing University Examination for the Honours degree, with credit and distinction in English.

Miss. Eunice Gomez belongs to a very respectable family and her breeding has been that of a lady in the best sense of the word. She possesses an excellent character and her manners are affable and pleasing. She is immensely popular with the lady students of the college who now number about 30. I have known gentlemen students of the College whose studies she helps in and to whom she gives her own notes on Literature - a sure testimony to her real worth of character.

I feel certain that the good qualities which Miss.

Gomez has invariably shown as a student will follow her in all her activities, however varied they may be.

Miss. E. Gomez B.A., was a student in the History Department of the College for two years, when I had opportunities of judging her work and capacity. I am pleased to be able to certify that Miss Gomez is very careful, persevering and diligent, and that she possesses in a very high degree the intelligence and discrimination needed to pursue with profit any branch of study or research. She has never once had a mishap in her examinations, and as education goes in India, Miss Gomez may fairly claim to have reached the highest distinction in arts which the University can bestow. She is now reading in the Final Honours Class in Literature, and nothing will be more appropriate than that she should have the chance of rounding off her studies in either directions under the guidance of the great Teachers of the West.

Miss. Gomez belongs to a very respectable family and her home life and surroundings have been the very best to be desired. She is the daughter of Mr. M. Gomez, a teacher of long standing, very much loved and appreciated by the large circle of his students and friends. One, like me, who has known him and his family life, good, simple and moral, can speak with ---- confidence of the prospect of a noble and useful career which young Miss. Gomez has before her. I am quite sure that she will richly deserve every encouragement and support, so that Both my parents, George Lawrence Philipsz and Louise Agneta Philipsz were Anglo-Indians. My father was a Surgeon by profession and served under Government till 1908 when he resigned the Service to take up Private Practice. He died in 1917 and my mother predeceased him in 1912.

I was educated up to the Matriculation Class in the Presentation Convent, Vepery and then joined the Presidency College where I passed the Intermediate in Arts in the First Class, securing distinction in English and Natural Science. I took the B. A. (Honours) degree in English Language and Literature in 1915 & passed the L. T. degree examination in 1916, taking the first place in the Presidency in the First Class. The M. A. (Honours) degree was conferred on me in 1917.

I entered Government Service in 1916 and worked as Professor (I. E. S.) and Assistant Professor of English in Queen Mary's College, Mylapore. Since February, 1920, I have been acting as Superintendent of the Government Secondary and Training School, Triplicane.

Of three sisters, one is married, another is a Teacher in the Presidency Training School, Egmore, and the third is at school. Two of my four brothers are married and of the others one is a Military Assistant Surgeon and the youngest is an Operator in the Eastern Extension Cable Co.

I am thus dependent on myself and my own efforts. I have no relatives in England, but some friends to whom I might go during the holidays; I would, however, prefer to spend the vacations in one or other of the Convents recommended by His Grace the Archbishop of Madras and the Lady Superior of the Presentation Convent, High School, Vepery.

The State Scholarship for Women (domiciled Community) is granted for educational or medical training. For the Scholarship available in the current year, the S.P. recommends Miss B. There was some question about the Provincialization of the scholarships. Can we consider this current bill that is disposed of?

Is the amount correct according to the latest orders?

May 7/4/21

It will take some time before a decision is arrived at on the question of the provincialization of the State Scholarships. In the draft reply to India it has been suggested that if the scholarships are provincialized the local Govt. should be given a grant from Imperial revenues or that the existing arrangements should continue. Till the general question is settled, it seems that the Govt. of India will be awarding the scholarships as usual, and there appears to be no objection to forwarding the local Govt's recommendations.
