The Secretary to the High Commissioner for India,
General Department.

Dear Sir,

I should be very much obliged if you would draw the attention of the Government of India to the new publication of the India Society, entitled 'Indian Art at the British Empire Exhibition'.

It may be pointed out that this is the only record of the exhibit in existence, as they were never catalogued. The Exhibition was officially opened by Sir Arthur Hirtzel in July (of last year) and it was then stated that it was probably the most representative that had ever been shown in this country.

The terms for sale are identical with those of our previous publication: "The Influence of Indian Art".

Yours faithfully,

Sd. F.I.P. Richter, Hony. Secretary.
