(e) & (f). The Principal, Medical College, Madras, states that the selection was made mainly on the communal basis irrespective of merit, as all Non-Brahmins not belonging to Native States were selected provided they were qualified for admission. He states that it is not possible to state how many brahmins were shut out by this method of selection. He, however states in reply to a further reference that owing to the smaller number of applications for admission to the College, this year, and owing to the fact that a large number of these were from native states, the actual number of Brahmins other than from Native States, who were refused admission and would have obtained admission if selection had been made by merit only, was three.

(e) & (f). The Principal, Medical College, Vizagapatam reports that the selection of pupils was made neither on communal basis nor by merit, and that if there had been a larger number of applications, the instructions contained in G.O. No. 1639 P.H., dated 12-11-1924 would have been complied with.

I have the honour to be,

My Hon. CM M, has to see the position in the answer from W clause C of.

The statement at A in the draft answer is not accurate. The admissions to the Medical College are not made mainly on communal basis. The procedure adopted in the case of admissions to the Medical College is that among the candidates for admission those who are not qualified under special rules are rejected irrespective of the communities to which the candidates belong. At that among the qualified preference is given to the backward communities. The preferential treatment however is limited to $\frac{2}{3}$ of the available places & the other $\frac{1}{3}$ being left free for all communities without any preference being shown to any community.

I wd. have the portion at A ~~above~~ revised

Admission of students in the several Government educational institutions.

* 742 Q.—Rao Sahib U. RAMA RAO: Will the hon. the Minister for Education, the hon. the Minister for Development, the hon. the Minister for Local Self-Government and the hon. the Home Member be pleased to state—

(e) whether the selection was made according to the merit of the students or on communal basis; and

(f) if the latter, how many students of the former type have been shut out from admission and the number in each community?

A.—(a), (b), (c) & (d) The particulars required are given in the statement appended.

(e) & (f) Admissions were made on merit alone to the College of Engineering, Guindy, the Agricultural College, Coimbatore, the Forest College, the Government College, Mangalore, and the Queen Mary's College, Madras. Communal considerations and merit were taken into account in respect of admissions to the following colleges:—

- (1) The Presidency College, Madras.
- (2) The Government College, Kumbakonam.
- (3) The Ceded Districts College, Anantapur.
- (4) The Government Victoria College, Palghat.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“With reference to the answer to clauses (e) and (f), may I ask the hon. the Minister to throw some light without heat on the question . . .”

The hon. the PRESIDENT:—“I must ask the hon. Member not to introduce expressions which are not necessary to understand the question.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“There have been occasions when I should say this. I bow to your ruling, Sir. But I am asking him to throw some light on this sentence in the answer: ‘communal considerations and merit were taken into account in respect of admissions’. May I ask, Sir, what are the main communal considerations and what relation they bear to the merit of the candidates admitted?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“The selection was entirely in the hands of the selection committees and the general considerations guided the judgment of the committees.”

a Printed as Appendix II.

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“Has the Government issued any orders or instructions to these selection committees as to the considerations they must bear in mind, when selecting from the applicants to these colleges those whom they desire?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“The selection was left to the discretion of the selection committees and no specific instructions were issued by the Government.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I take it that the selection committees when they made their selections did not think of the communal considerations and merit, but acted on their own responsibility without any instructions from the Government?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“They were guided by the general conditions of the country.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“Does the Government approve of the considerations which these committees had in making the admissions?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“The Government approve of the discretion exercised by the committees.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“I am not asking about particular instances. But I wish to know whether the Government, after the examination of that policy, approve of the policy of restricting the admission to Government colleges maintained at the expense of the general tax-payer, on communal considerations?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“It is based more or less on the communal Government Order.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“Does the communal Government Order refer to the admission of students to colleges also?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“It is based on the conditions of the country.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“May I know what is the relation between communal considerations and merit generally with regard to these admissions to Government Colleges?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“I am not called upon to answer general theories.”

Mr. A. RAMASWAMI MUDALIYAR:—“Is it not a fact that after a resolution passed by this House unanimously, the Government Order was issued appointing these selection committees and that in pursuance of that Government Order and under the conditions of that Government Order these selection committees are supposed to act?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“The committees were appointed in accordance with a resolution passed by this Council.”

Mr. S. SATYAMURTI:—“Regarding that Government Order with which the hon. Member from Chingleput is more familiar than the hon. Minister, may I ask whether that Government Order lays down any guiding principle as to the admission of students to Government colleges?”

The hon. Rao Bahadur Sir A. P. PATRO:—“I shall be glad to communicate the Government Order to the hon. Member.”
