L.C.O.

Note for the Secretary.

The House of Commons debates are required very often by the hon. the President, the Secretary, and the M.L.Cs., for reference on parliamentary procedure and precedents. The Council Library has a set of these debates only from 1921 and almost every week the debates relating to the earlier period are borrowed from the Connemara Library. It is understood that these debates are not made large use of in the Connemara Library, being only back-numbers transferred thither by the Chief Secretariat Library for mere safe-keeping; and, indeed, a library intended for the legislator rather than one intended for the general reader is the proper place for them. In these circumstances, it is submitted that the Law (Education) Department may be requested U.O. to order the transfer from the Connemara Library all the Parliamentary Debates (both of the House of Lords and of the House of Commons) and the Hansards now kept in the Library.
