Copy of a letter dated the 12th January 1925, from the Honorary Secretary, The India Society, 3, Victoria Street, London, S.W.1.

With reference to our forthcoming publication, "The influences of Indian Art", (an advance copy of which I left with you to-day), I am writing to enquire whether you could kindly write to the Government of India, and ask whether they would take a certain number of copies.

This book is, it is felt, of more than specialised interest as it is designed to show the extent of influence exerted by India on the other countries of Asia, and might therefore be considered to be of general educational value for universities and colleges. For this reason it is hoped that Government may be disposed to recommend it to its institutions.

The India Society has spared no pains to make this work as authoritative as possible, by inviting the leading experts on the particular branches of the subject to lend their co-operation. Our members include the Viceroy, and the High Commissioner for India. The price of the volume is 25 shillings per copy, the trade price up to one dozen copies being 20/10, special terms for over 12 copies; 13 at 12/9 each.

Memorandum from the India Society regarding their publication "The Influence of Indian Art".

The India Society has pleasure in forwarding:
"THE INFLUENCES OF INDIAN ART".
Price 25/- net.
Date of publication: January 15th.

The Times Literary Supplement (18th December 1924) in an intimation of forthcoming publication stated that the object of the work would be to trace the interchange of artistic culture between India and other parts of Asia, and added 'this aspect of Indian Art has received hitherto no more than incidental attention, so that the forthcoming work will fill a distinct gap.'
