how many copies of the Fauna of British India

Under the revised budget procedure each department has to budget for the purchase of books and periodicals required by it. On this ground the S. D. I. has already suggested that the number of copies in his case might be reduced from 20 to 12. The Sect Library has likewise reduced its requirements to one copy.
With these reductions the total number of copies required will be 19, as shown in the margin.
Other departments concerned might also consider the advisability of limiting their requirements.
